Checks Unclaimed

$8,790 A 'Begging'

Some $8,790 is "going a'begging" in Midland.

Checks for about 600 former Crucible Steel Co. workers, worth $14.65 each, have been returned unclaimed because they can not be located at their last known address.

Atty. William Coughlin of Beaver, liquidator for the Employees' Relief & Beneficial Association, is shown holding several of the checks at his Midland office.

Those who have not received their check have until about July 26 to claim the cash.

Atty. Coughlin said that 60 days after the first checks were issued May 27, the funds will be turned over to the courts for a decision.

The money will go into escrow, that is, revert to the state treasury or the Beaver County prothonotary office, and then be claimed if a person can prove his right to his share.

Some 4,000 members of the association, still at Crucible, received their checks in May; salaried employees May 27 and hourly employees May 31. Arrangements were made through the paymaster.

Checks were made out for over 6,500 members of the association, which was formed in 1923 by employees and lasted until

Motorist Nabs Offender For 2-Way Crash

Overtakes 2nd Man After Sideswiping On East End Street

A motorist whose auto was sideswiped in East End Monday afternoon pursued the offending driver and held him for police, who filed charges of driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

Harry Quinn of Bridge St., Marshall's Bottom, was trailed to his home by Donald Owens, 22, of 941 Denver St., whose 1960 compact car was struck at 4:19 on Pennsylvania Ave. at Oakland Ave., police reported.

Quinn pleaded guilty to both charges today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. He was fined $250 and costs, sentenced to 5 days in jail and his operator's permit was suspended for 6 months on the drunken driving charge. In the hit-skip case, he was fined $25 and costs.

Owens told police he was halted in a westbound traffic lane when his car was sideswiped by Quinn's eastbound auto. The entire left side of Owens' car was scraped, officers said.

Owens turned his car around and followed Quinn to his home, officers said. Patrolman Jack Strobel, notified of the accident, filed the charges against Quinn as a result of the investigation.

A 19-year-old youth was fined for driving without an operator's permit as an aftermath of a collision Monday at 6 p. m. in which his 1952 four-door sedan struck a utility pole at Daisy Alley and Grace Alley.

Thomas W. Moore, 129 1/2 W. 6th St., pleaded guilty, and told Judge Chertoff that although he owns the car he has never had a driver's license. The judge fined Moore $50 and costs, but gave him until July 11 to pay. If he produces a valid operator's permit by that time, the fact will be considered in possible suspension of part of the fine, the judge said.

The police report said Moore's car hit the pole as he turned left from Grace Alley into Daisy Alley. The front of his car was damaged.

West Winds Up Collapsed Arms Parley

Waits On Red Move, Then Sends Records Of Talks To U.N.

GENEVA (AP)—The Western powers formally ended the collapsed disarmament conference today.

The five Western delegations held a rump session of the dead conference, waited 10 minutes for the Soviet bloc delegates to return to the talks and then sent all conference records to the U. N. Security Council and the General Assembly.

The Soviet delegations, led by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin, walked out Monday after accusing the West of using the talks to camouflage its own rearmament.

No one expected the Soviet bloc to show up today, but the West maintained that Monday's adjournment by Polish Chairman Marian Naszkowski was illegal, and the conference therefore continued in existence.

British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore spent 45 minutes with Zorin Monday night in an attempt to persuade them to return to the conference table. A British spokesman said Zorin's only reply was to read a big part of the speech with which he announced his walkout.

Naszkowski issued a statement asserting that all conference actions after he left the table were illegal. He particularly attacked the U. N. secretariat for "unlawfully circulating" documents of what he said was a private meeting of the five Western delegations.

Naszkowski rejected Western charges that he denied the Western delegates the right to speak during Monday's tumultuous breakup. Having declared the conference closed, he said, he was no longer in a position "either to give the floor to anyone or deny it."

The Soviet Union formally requested the U. N. Monday to put disarmament on the agenda for the 1960 General Assembly, opening Sept. 20. The question would have been discussed there anyway, since the Assembly was scheduled to get a report on the Geneva talks. U. N. delegates looked forward to another round of East-West charge and counter-charge.

Brotherhood To Ask Relief From Imports

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters opened a week-long convention at Seattle Monday with foreign competition the principal concern of the 225 delegates from 12 states and Canada.

"We are not opposed to foreign aid," said E. L. Wheatley, union president. "But we are opposed to giving away our very livelihood," the Associated Press reported.

Wheatley said the union has fought "a long, lonesome fight" for relief. Harry Gill, editor of the Potters Herald, the union's publication, said the brotherhood had appealed to the State Department "but it has been no help at all."

The convention is expected to adopt a resolution calling for increased tariffs or quotas on pottery imports, aimed principally at products from Japan.

Mine Blast Kills 2, Traps Between 40, 50

ABERTILLERY, Wales (AP)—A coal mine explosion killed at least 2 men and trapped 40 to 50 others underground today.

The mine is known as the Six Belles colliery.

Quickly mustered rescue teams hurried into the diggings to search for the missing men.

Republicans Heartened In North Dakota

Heavy Absentee Vote Marks Beginning Of Senatorial Election

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — An unusually heavy absentee balloting marked the start of North Dakota's special senatorial election today, heartening Republicans who have been working to get out a big vote in what appears to be a tight race.

Political analysts are watching the contest as a possible barometer of farm-belt sentiments in the presidential election next November.

Democratic charges of campaign malpractice, and Republican countercharges sparked interest in the election.

North Dakota political leaders, noting the surge of absentee votes cast, said they expected a huge total vote.

The election fills the Senate seat held by the late Sen. William Langer (R-ND) who died Nov. 8. It sends Gov. John E. Davis, Republican, against Rep. Quentin N. Burdick, Democrat.

At the eleventh hour, the Democrats requested the U. S. Senate to investigate charges that anonymous election statements had been distributed during the campaign. Two investigators of the Senate Subcommittee on Privileges and Elections were expected in North Dakota today.

The Democrats said the anonymous leaflets attacked Burdick. Federal law prohibits use of anonymous material in federal elections.

The election has national significance as possible evidence for the answers to these critical questions—

How angry are the farmers about the agricultural program as administered by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson?

Will the farmers place equal importance on other issues when they ballot in November?

Ike Gets Power To Cut Cuba's Sugar Quota

WASHINGTON (AP)—The key House Agricultural Committee has approved a bill, giving the President authority to cut Cuba's sugar quota if he thinks it necessary. Cuba immediately called this "a declaration of economic war."

"The attack on the economy and national sovereignty will not go unanswered," said Raul Cepero Bonilla, minister of commerce, in Havana Monday night.

If Deemed Necessary

Ike Says He'd Go On Another Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, rejecting all criticism of his ventures in personal diplomacy, held the way open today for another goodwill trip abroad should he deem it necessary to promote free world unity.

"I would not hesitate a second to make another tour under such circumstances," he said.

The chance that he will embark on a new journey during his last seven months in office is slight, Eisenhower indicated Monday night. But his declaration of readiness to go summed up dramatically his argument that previous travels have greatly strengthened free world ties and served "to obstruct Communist imperialism."

In a half-hour television address to the nation, the President said the cancellation of his scheduled visit to Japan 10 days ago stemmed from Communist-inspired disorders in Tokyo.

But he said his inability to go had been far outweighed in importance by Japan's subsequent ratification of a new security pact with the United States. He called that a "signal defeat for international communism" and "an important victory for the free world."

As for the Tokyo riots which prevented his visit to Japan, he commented that "these disorders were not occasioned by America" and added: "We in the United States must not fall into the error of blaming ourselves for what the Communists do; after all, Communists will act like Communists."

Congressional comment on the speech indicated a general satisfaction that tours by heads of state are waning. But while Republicans accepted Eisenhower's statement that big gains had been made by such tours, Democrats limited themselves to expression of hope that was true.

Councilmen Advised

City Planning Group May Suspend For Lack Of Fund

The City Planning Commission may suspend meetings until further notice or until there is an indication funds will be available to implement some of the decisions and suggestions it has made over the last six years to guide orderly future growth and business and industrial expansion, Don Eckert, chairman, told members of City Council Monday night.

Endless discussion and investigation of things like urban renewal, preparation of a master plan and building codes will produce no ultimate benefit until money is on hand to make some of the decisions a reality, Eckert declared.

William B. Cooper, another member of the commission, concurred with Eckert.

"If you are not convinced you should go ahead, I feel we should disband the Planning Commission for a year and think about it some more," he said.

Eckert explained the problem of lack of funds has been present over the last three city administrations, so it is not peculiar with the new city government that went into office last Jan. 1.

Councilmen reiterated that they can see no way to finance ex-

Salary Hikes Given Various School Heads

Contracts Renewed For 6; Elementary Principals Benefit

Salary increases totaling $16,696 a year were granted various personnel other than regular teachers by the Board of Education Monday night.

Teachers received increases earlier, which will cost a total of $93,950. The funds for the increases will come from a 3-mill operating levy adopted at the May 3 election, with the exception of hikes granted cafeteria personnel, which will be paid from the cafeteria fund.

All increases are effective Jan. 1, 1961, when the new tax will be collected. A 1-mill operating levy also was adopted in May.

Salary hikes of six school heads were proposed to begin Aug. 1, the effective date of new contracts, but the matter was referred back to the finance committee, which had not studied the beginning date.

Supt. Ralph W. Betts was given a $600 increase for the coming year, making his salary $10,300. The board referred to the finance committee the possibility of giving Betts a three-year contract. His present contract has one more year to run.

The board renewed the contracts of Paul Blair, assistant superintendent; George Hargraves, high school principal; Tom Dixon, Westgate principal; Clarence Means, East Junior High principal, and Miss Mildred McGregor, and Carl Peltini, both assistant principals at Westgate.

Their contracts begin Aug. 1. Each was granted a salary increase for both years but the starting date was not set. Board members remarked they had overlooked the date during the finance meetings.

Blair was given a $600 increase for the first year, making his salary $9,200, and $400 the second year.

Hargraves received a hike of $500 the first year, to make his

Pittsburgher Held For Court In Burglary

Paul Taylor, 21, of Pittsburgh was bound over to the Beaver County Courts Monday for Grand Jury action after pleading guilty to burglarizing Mickey's Tavern at Ohio View, Industry, early Sunday.

Taylor was given a hearing before Squire George C. Baacke of Ohio View and remains in Beaver County Jail. He was caught at the scene by Industry police. His only possessions were a dime and a 10-cent comb, police said.

Police Get Help From Passersby

Handcuffed Jeweler Foils Getaway Of Masked Holdup Men

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A wholesale jeweler, handcuffed in his locked office on the eighth floor of a downtown building, was able to summon aid before a trio of holdup men got past the first floor with $37,500 worth of loot Monday night.

Patrolman William Geidner and his partner, Anthony Ignazio, rushed to the building, where Geidner grabbed one man in the lobby carrying a suitcase containing diamonds and jewelry mountings valued at $35,000. Some $2,500 in cash taken in the holdup also was recovered.

Ignazio chased a second man and captured him a few blocks away. Passersby pursued the third man and helped other police arrest him. Three masked men forced elevator operator Mrs. Grace Parker, of Hubbard, to take them to the eighth floor and took her with them into the jewelry firm quarters, police reported.

One of the men carried a snub-nosed revolver and the other had a .45 caliber automatic. They handcuffed Lysohir and co-owner Louis Cvelbar and tied up a customer and a salesman, police said. The loot was taken from a safe, which was open.

Police held the three without charge. They were identified as Melvin McCormick, 24; William Ison, 25, and James Smith, 31, all from Youngstown.

Auto Assault Victim 'Poor'

Suspect Still In Jail On $10,000 Bond

Steve Yurka, 46, of New Cumberland, who was crushed against a steel fence in an assault with a car at Waterford Park Race Track, remains in "poor" condition today at City Hospital.

He is a guard at the track. Donald Eugene Saunders, 31, of Wellsburg R. D. 3, a jockey valet, remains in Hancock County Jail unable to post $10,000 bond.

Hancock County sheriff deputies said further action in the case is halted until they can talk with Yurka, which may not be possible for two or three days.

In an oxygen tent Monday, he is suffering from a fractured pelvis, fractures of the left ribs, lacerations of the left shoulder, possible injuries to both shoulders and abrasions of the knees.

According to deputies, Saunders was told he could not enter the grounds unless he drove correctly. He later became boisterous and drove his car into Yurka, crushing him through the 4-foot-high storm fence. He apparently had been drinking, the sheriff's office said.

Crime Group's Counsel Will Visit In Hancock

CHARLESTON — F. Dean Nichols, general counsel of the West Virginia Crime Commission, said he plans to visit Brooke and Hancock counties the week of July 10 in his continuing inquiry into alleged gambling and other unlawful practices in the Northern Panhandle.

Nichols, a Charles Town attorney, spent much of last week conferring with officials and residents of Ohio and Marshall counties.

He confirmed that the commission will hold hearings in the Northern Panhandle, but said where and when will depend on what complete investigations of problems there uncover.

Nichols said his conferences last week showed a need for some legislation to make it easier to establish proof in cases involving the exhibition and use of gaming devices.

School Board Meets

4 Teachers Hired,
Coach Post Filled

The Board of Education Monday night hired 4 new instructors, named 11 teachers for summer school work, appointed a new custodian and filled a coaching job.

Miss Margaret Ann Dick will be an elementary music instructor. A graduate of Muskingum College, she will replace Miss Betty Birch, who resigned earlier.

Miss Mary Ann Hohman and Mrs. Naomi Hendrickson were employed as elementary teachers. Miss Hohman taught in the Beaver Local system three years and worked at Orville last term. Mrs. Hendrickson has been employed several years at Mingo Junction.

EDWARD LANEVE of Newell, a recent graduate of West Virginia University at Morgantown, was hired as a junior high instructor.

Dominic Cascio was reappointed as basketball coach at East Junior High School. He had held the position once before but resigned. Supt. Ralph Betts said he had reconsidered.

Charles Ross of Glenmoor was named as a new custodian in the system effective Friday. He was certified to the board by the Civil Service Commission. There is a position open at Westgate School.

Betts said Ross has not been placed definitely. Older custodians will be given an opportunity for the Westgate job first.

NAMED AS summer school instructors were Mrs. Margaret Bowen, Milton Watson, James Proctor, Wilbert Moore, Carl Pelini, Harry Wolfe, Miss Helen Allison, Miss Dolores Hughes, Miss Ann Johnston, Miss Helen Capehart and Miss Isabel Clouse. All will be for an eight-week term with the exception of Miss Capehart and Miss Clouse, who will work four weeks each.

The board also accepted the resignation of John Javens, a high school English instructor, who plans to go to Oakmont, Pittsburgh.

A leave of absence was granted Al Harvey, custodian at Patterson Field. It will begin at the end of his summer vacation and continue through Dec. 1. He cited illness.

A rent of $125 was set for Patterson Field for an all-star football game to be held in July.

THE BOARD let a $6,646 contract for erection of fire escapes

U.S., Brazilian Baptists Cite
Red Peaceful Coexistence Bid

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Some U.S. and Brazilian Baptists have called on the 10th congress of the Baptist World Alliance to renounce any offers of "peaceful coexistence" put forth by a Soviet delegation.

A group of churchmen from the two Western nations Monday accused the Soviet delegation, headed by Drs. Jackov Zhidkov and Alexander Karev, of being servants of Soviet communism.

In a petition, the Americans and Brazilians said:

"We appeal to the Baptist World Alliance to renounce any further collaboration of peaceful coexistence with these propagandists and to repudiate all Communist use of religion by identifying the subtle Communist propaganda and dislodging its spokesmen from all positions within the churches of the free world."

The Soviets denied the charge. They were praised Saturday by outgoing Alliance President Theodore F. Adams of Richmond, Va. In his opening address Adams said that during his visit to the Soviet Union, "I saw the faith and devotion of the Russian Baptists." He said he found them to be "zealous New Testament Christians."

The Soviet delegation received the loudest applause at the opening session and many Baptist officials believed the petition would get nowhere. The supporters of the resolution also admitted this privately.

Commissioners Give
$25 On Land Easement

Howard and Lorena Crosser, 321 W. Washington St., Lisbon, were given $25 by Columbiana County commissioners Monday for an easement for the extension of Depot Rd., from Rt. 172 to Rt. 30.

The commissioners also authorized grants of $300 each to Liverpool and Center Township trustees for road maintenance. Trustees of both townships said their road funds were depleted.

Robert Bycroft of East Palestine, county welfare director, was authorized to attend the County Civil Service Administrators' institute at Columbus Wednesday and Thursday. He was allowed $25 expenses. Russell Phillips, superintendent of the Columbiana County Home, will also attend.

Radio Club Takes Part
In Weekend Field Day

A total of 145 short wave radio contact acts were made by the Triangle Radio Club during a nationwide field day held over the weekend, it was reported at a meeting of the club Monday night at the Smith St. quarters.

The club contacted 22 states, along with Canada, Puerto Rico and the Canal Zone during the emergency test conducted by some 20 members Saturday and Sunday at Swaney Airport.

Plans were made for a joint picnic with the Steubenville Radio Club July 16. D. G. Wilkinson spoke on the time delay in radio transmission through space and the possibility of future radio contacts between planets.

Discussion was held on incorporating the club. About 21 attended. Refreshments were served.

General Tire Sales
Up, But Earnings Down

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Sales were up sharply from a year ago, but earnings were down, the General Tire & Rubber Co. said in reporting on operations for the six months ending May 31.

Earnings for the first six months were estimated at $11,236,964, equivalent to $2.01 per share of common stock outstanding. For the corresponding 1959 period earnings were $13,929,809. Sales were $350,752,897, compared with $306,339,274 for the 1959 period.

The company blamed the drop in earnings on crude rubber costs, which are "more than one-third higher" than in the 1959 period and "the industry's highly competitive bidding for business."

Chester City Driver
License Sale Lagging

Sale of Chester city driver licenses is less than half complete with the deadline Thursday midnight, City Clerk Roy Cashdollar reported today.

Some 610 licenses have been issued, with about 1,050 yet to be obtained, according to the clerk, who said 1,646 were issued in 1959. Licenses may be obtained at the City Hall daily, or motorists may mail $2 with a return, self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Mistrial Ends
Damage Case

LISBON — Remarks made by members of a Common Pleas Court jury while visiting the premises of a home involved in a damage suit brought dismissal of the panel in a mistrial ruling Monday.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard ruled the mistrial, requested by counsel for the defendants, David and Charlotte Simich of Salem, being sued for $1,500 damages by Steve and Ada Mae Cook, also of Salem, concerning the sale of a $19,000 home by Simich.

Judge Buzzard said the jury had been cautioned not to make or form an opinion while viewing the home, but both the defendant's and plaintiff's attorneys agreed opinionated remarks were heard.

Cook sued for damages, claiming Simich did not make minor repairs supposed to have been taken care of in the purchase price. Simich admitted he was supposed to make these corrections, which he estimated to amount to $136.80, but said he always got into an argument with the Cooks when he tried to do the work and just gave up.

It is expected the case will be scheduled for the September term of court.

The jury sworn in yesterday morning by Judge Buzzard consisted of Beryl M. Smith and Carl Mansfield of East Liverpool; Ruth Miller and Mary F. Plate of Wellsville; Harry Moffett, William Hiltbrand, Elizabeth Corbett and Mary Jane Cope of Salem.

Harold Conlin of Salineville, Chester A. Burbick of Columbiana, Inez Rupert of New Waterford, and Jean Schneider of Beloit R. D. 2, Florence Ensinger of East Liverpool was alternate.

Council Sets Speed Limit At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Ordinances establishing a 25-mile-an-hour speed limit on all village streets and providing Woodland Cemetery trustees with $5 a month pay were approved by Council Monday night.

Under suspension of rules requiring separate reading, Council approved the 25-mile restriction on all streets other than state roads, effective today.

Heretofore, only the general state law setting 25-mile limits in business areas and 35-mile limits in residential areas had been followed.

Councilman Herman Barcus reported West End residents are seeking a 25-mile limit on State Route 38 in that area, and Solicitor Warren Bettis was instructed to request the State Highway Department to investigate the possibility of lowering the limit from 35.

Council also authorized pay for the cemetery trustees at $5 a meeting. The board meets monthly and has served without pay.

An ordinance authorizing the village regulation for penalizing drunken drivers to be revised to conform to state regulation was approved.

The cemetery board was requested to submit more detailed plans for a proposed storage building at the cemetery.

Karl Lindner reported a plan for sewage disposal by utilizing an open pond has been described in a national magazine, and Council is to study the plan. Lindner said the federal government has approved the method, which involves the use of the pond natural purification process to care for sewage on the basis of one acre of water for 200 persons.

Council authorized filing of a street from John St. to Foundry Hill. Discussion was held on dog control following a report from Mayor Kenneth Leishman of "dog complaints galore."

Police Chief Cleo Mellott reported police had patrolled 1,645 miles since May 24, investigated 6 accidents, issued 16 warnings, handled 14 dog complaints and made eight arrests.

A Diesel air compressor was demonstrated by John McKnight of Dover, representative of the Brinker Supply Co.

Orval Tolson, Council president, was in charge of the major portion of the meeting. Final approval was given an ordinance revising gas rates.

Gerald Finney, minister of the Church of Christ, led prayer. The next meeting will be July 11.

Typhoon Seen Sparing Battered Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Typhoon Olive veered east as it whirled across the South China Sea today, and the Royal Observatory predicted it would spare storm-battered Hong Kong unless it changed course again.

The typhoon cut across the northern Philippines Sunday, leaving 104 dead, more than 500 missing and more than 600,000 homeless.

Donald Allen Quits School Music Post

Donald C. Allen, supervisor of instrumental music in the East Liverpool School District for the last five years, submitted his resignation to the Board of Education Monday night to accept a similar post in a new high school that will open this fall in Montgomery County, Md.

The board named as his successor Vincent L. Maola Jr., who has served the last four years as instrumental music director in East Junior High and also has taught music in the elementary system in East End.

Allen, his wife and two children will leave East Liverpool at the end of July, as he is scheduled to begin his new assignment Aug. 24 at Springbrook High School, a suburb of Washington. The new school expects an enrollment of 750 in its first term, growing eventually to 1,500.

Allen came to East Liverpool after four years of service in the Air Force, during which he directed a service band. He holds a bachelor's degree from Muskingum College and a master's degree in music education from Indiana University. The family resides at 1123 Vine St.

One of the principal functions of the instrumental music director is supervising the high school band and orchestra. Under Maola's contract, he will receive an additional $500 as band director. He also will conduct the band's summer rehearsals, for which he will be paid an additional $200.

Married and the father of one son, Maola resides at 612 Wedgewood St. A native of East Liverpool, he was graduated from the high school in 1952. Before joining the local system, he taught in the Bennington Township Schools in Morrow County and directed a high school band and other instrumental music work.

He was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware and is working toward a master's degree in music education at Duquesne University.

'That Ain't Hay,' Say Steamed-Up Firemen

The old retort — "That ain't hay" — was applied by city firemen today as they recounted the chase of a truck believed carrying a cargo of burning hay through East End.

The incident started at 8:44 a. m. A resident of the River Rd. notified the department that a truck loaded with "hay" had passed and that the "hay" was burning, apparently unnoticed by driver.

Firemen immediately dispatched a truck and the chief's car, believing the truck might be headed for one of the East End potteries.

They caught up with the truck on Harvey Ave., near the Louthan Manufacturing Co. They discovered what the truck was hauling, a load of farm manure steaming from the cool air.

Marinate cubes of leftover roast or plain cooked meat and such vegetables as green lima beans, carrots, wax and snap beans, using French dressing. Serve on crisp greens as a luncheon salad. If the meat is on the sparse side, add hard-cooked eggs as a garnish.

School Board Will Keep Lot

NEW CUMBERLAND — The Hancock County Board of Education Monday night voted against selling a lot at the corner of Lincoln St. and Ridge Ave. which was cited by a representative of the postal department as the only place in town for a new Post Office.

The refusal was made on the recommendation of an Ohio State University team which is making a building survey of schools in the county.

The board had received the request from the Lions Club to sell the lot so it could be used for the proposed new postal building.

The board, in backing up its stand, pointed out the lot was purchased seven years ago as a site for a proposed administration building.

After receiving the request to either sell or trade the ground, the board requested Dr. A. E. Wohlert, who is heading the survey team, to investigate the proposal and make a recommendation. The board then met with him last night.

The board says it will keep the lot for the original purpose.

Government officials informed New Cumberland residents they definitely are in line for a new Post Office as the present facility is flooded annually during high waters in the Ohio River. No home deliveries are now made and the mail is tied up during the floods.

In other action, the board granted a request from the Wells High School Band at Newell to participate in the July 4th parade at Midland.

Arless Kirkpatrick of New Cumberland was granted permission to use the New Cumberland athletic field two evenings each week for student softball.

In Help For Needy Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Virginia would be eligible for an estimated $4,746,000 yearly in federal aid under a new proposal to help the needy.

Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-W. Va.), one of the sponsors of the bill, said this would be the state's share if West Virginia matches the aid on a 30 per cent basis.

Randolph is co-sponsoring the bill as a member of a special Senate committee on unemployment problems.

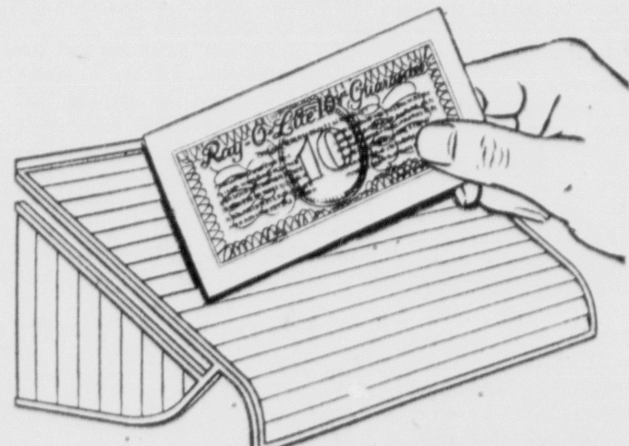

The bill would expand the Social Security Act to cover needy individuals and families not now qualified for the federally aided public assistance program.

5 Lose Lives In Crackup Of Tanker Plane

NEWRY, Maine (AP) — An Air Force KC97 tanker plane from Plattsburgh, N. Y., crashed in flames Monday night in the mountainous terrain of western Maine during a refueling exercise.

The bodies of five crewmen were found amidst the wreckage, strewn over a five-acre tract near Jonathon Smith Mountain.

Two of the victims wore unopened parachutes.

Officials said the four-engine turbo-prop aircraft normally carried a crew of five or six.

State police and the Oxford County sheriff's department were flooded with calls from witnesses who reported seeing the plane burst into flames, dive behind the mountain and explode.

Police officer Joseph Perry of nearby Bethel said he was watching a plane hook on to the tanker's fuel line "when all of a sudden the tanker exploded."

If Something Had To Be Said

Ohioans can admire their senior U.S. senator, Frank J. Lausche, for his honest position on the U2 report by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. Lausche joined with Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wisc) in a supplementary statement that pretty well offset the captious criticism of the report, itself.

They pointed out that Congress had been voting money for years to develop the U2 as a piece of spy equipment and never had registered disapproval before. They also disagreed with the report's theory that the U2 incident scuttled the Paris summit meeting; they said Premier Khrushchev did that by himself.

Their principal statement was on the point that millions of Americans bothered about while the Foreign Relations Committee was asserting its authority to call executive officials to account for their actions—the misuse of hindsight.

"With the benefit of hindsight," declared Sen. Lausche and Sen. Wiley, "no criticism has been made against the flights which did not fail, but only against the May flight. Bad luck, not bad judgment, was the true cause of the May 1 incident."

If something had to be said to prove to the country that Congress was ever watchful of the administration, this was a fitting way to say it.

CONGRESS—and the executive department —needs to be concerned over evidence that there is a dangerous lack of coordination between diplomacy and militarism. But Congress has no call in this situation to second-guess the executive department, least of all for a partisan purpose.

The Democratic party had dominated both the House and the Senate during the time of the U2 development. There was no official secret about these spy planes. Congressmen knew about them, even though the public had been kept in ignorance.

If there had been no bad luck, the public still would be in ignorance. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee still would be keeping its official mouth shut. There would have been no investigation and no report.

Only two senators, Lausche of Ohio and Wiley of Wisconsin, had the grace to admit what everybody knew to be true—that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was not confronted with a surprise, only with an opportunity to jump on the Eisenhower administration about a piece of bad luck.

IT DIDN'T HELP that the committee went easier than it had been expected to go.

The only thing that could have saved its report from sounding like second-guessing would have been for everybody on the committee to acknowledge that it sounded that way because that is what it was—a critical judgment after an accident that the critics never tried to avert.

Thoughts On A Summit Meeting

If there should be an opportunity for another "summit" meeting, we suggest it be held in a hospital room.

Such a room is one of the few places where there's always a heartfelt appreciation of the other fellow's problems. A spirit of good will and cooperation prevails at all times.

A sick bed is a great leveler. When the man in the next bed gets the needle you wince out of sympathy — and when you get it he winces. There's only the thought of lending a helping hand, never the thought of distrust.

In a hospital room there's no concern over spy flights; over a divided Germany; over being the first into space. The questions instead are some such as these:

Will the six pills they made you gulp at mealtime stay down? And if they do, what is their mission in life?

Berliners Solving Own Problems

What would you do if you were tired of living under the guns of foreign powers in Berlin?

How would you, personally, tackle the issue that puts the Western Allies and the Soviet Union at each other's throats?

Thousands of Berliners simply have left the city, to take up new lives in West Germany, away from the tensions of the Communist-surrounded metropolis. They have put behind them the problem that the best minds of government have been unable to solve. Despairing of a solution in what is left of their lifetimes, they have moved to new homes in West Germany.

The size of the exodus is indicated by reports in a West Berlin newspaper showing a net loss in West Berlin population of 20,000 since 1958, despite the continued inflow of East German refugees on their way to freedom in the West.

The Once Over

Looking back over the result, never have so many been so wrong about Floyd Patterson. Even the experts must have been thinking of Patterson, N.J. Here was a young, fast, hard hitting athlete who had been hailed as great since Golden Gloves and Olympic games conquests. Yet on the basis of what might have been one lucky punch, which put him on Queer St., he was widely belittled in the return bout, curiously so by ex-champs and ring followers.

The experts had thought Ingo a pushover before the first bout, scoring reports of a right hand that carried a kayo. Patterson made the same mistake and held Ingo cheaply.

How could Patterson's determined and prolonged dedication in Newtown, Conn. woods, training as few fighters ever trained, have been brushed off so lightly as a fight factor?

The kid was in perfect shape, faster than ever and a killer-diller, giving Ingo a beating that could make Sweden protest to the United Nations and demand Dag Hammarskjold in his corner at the next meeting.

Patterson has been a modest, shy fighting man trusting himself absurdly to a management which picked some "joke" contestants but his shyness may become his charm and he may yet capture the popularity which would be easy with a little more colorful tactics.

All he needs is to get out of his shell, mix freely and be boss of his own career. It is now clear that those who pictured him as Little Lord Fauntleroy meeting a giant swinging the "hammer of Thor" goofed as seldom before in fight history. Plenty of ex-champs and fighters are still red-faced.

The idea of a heavyweight champ training in a camp full of relatives and friends, close to his chickadee and taking plenty of time out for TV shows and night clubbing got a kayo. It never looked right. Especially against Patterson, a really good fighting man from early boyhood, living a Spartan life with no time out for fun. Ingo is a likable ex-champ whose right hand can mean "curtains." But he should sue a half dozen TV programs. They contributed to his lack of fitness, speed and wallop. He may still have been waiting for studio directions.

When will you be able to enjoy a slab of appetizing butter again — for what are baked potatoes and bread without butter?

Why do they get you up each morning at 5:30 when 11 a. m. would do just as well? You're not going anywhere.

There are some of your problems and they are the problems of the other kindred souls in the beds across the hall.

Through proper supervision and care, however, everything generally comes out as it should. And when you finally get to go home, you leave with the good wishes of your fellow men. It's not a case of packing your bags in a hurry—as at Paris—and departing in an atmosphere of ill will.

So why not a "summit" in a hospital room? There's no equalizer like one of those confounded hospital gowns. And on Mr. K. they would look good.

But even more important than the numerical loss of population is the fact the departing Berliners are its highly trained residents — doctors, lawyers, engineers, architects and writers.

Berlin is being left to factory workers and service employees. Perhaps they, too, would leave if they had equally good job opportunities outside the city.

This, then, may be the long-term solution to the Berlin problem. No one knows how to give assurance to Berliners that their city may not be sacrificed to the bitter standoff between the free world and whip-wielders. Its future is clouded.

The easy way out of the dilemma is to leave Berlin to its fate. Though that solves nothing, it can get rid of the Berlin problem if the exodus continues. If there finally are no Berliners to be harmed, the Kremlin will lose interest in Berlin as a hostage.

By H. I. Phillips

"EXPERTS ARE MAKING nationwide study to find means to cut homicidal driving and mounting death toll," says a news item. Not one has come up so far with an appeal that the church, which could be a most powerful aid, lend a hand.

Most auto driving is plain brush-off of concepts of religious teaching.

"Thou shalt not kill," "Love thy neighbor as thyself" and "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you" are basic commandments, yet this writer hasn't heard a clergyman take time for even a casual word on the frightful accident and death toll, let alone a series of strong all-out sermons on the violation of religious principles by careless, arrogant driving.

The church is a powerful factor as an influence on human behavior and why the pulpit isn't aroused by the highway conditions is a major mystery.

What's become of the old-fashioned preacher who couldn't endure such conditions and would make the rafters ring as he tackled such a great evil?

"COLLEGE GRADS Told To Dress Neatly" says headline. (Ya mean that after four years in college they need advice on that?)

New England ruggedness is being shown by stubborn attitude of Martha's Vineyard natives to suspension of ferryboat service by strike. As a summer resort, the island is taking it on the chin but the Vineyarders are holding out against the situation and carrying vacationists by launch, cabin cruiser and fishing snacks, declaring "Ferry captains get $13,000 a year. Not a lawyer or teacher on island makes that much. Those who never had it so good are striking against those who never will have it so good."

Tom Bosley, who plays LaGuardia in musical "Fiorello" will star in TV murder mystery. Well, Fiorello could play villains, hand out hard punches and alert the medical examiner in many a speech.

Sweden, has refused to recognize Johanson's claim he is a resident of Switzerland. Sweden says his parents live in Sweden. Ingo owns an estate and a business there and has a car under Swedish registry. We pick Sweden to win this one.

AFL-CIO Switches Convention Plans

By Victor Riesel

"Floor tickets" to the Democratic National Convention are as scarce as favorite son votes for Gov. Faubus. Scarcer, perhaps.

But the other day party Chairman Paul Butler scrounged up 30 such ducats for some political friends, most of whom are now themselves scrounging for hotel rooms since they had not expected to fly to Los Angeles.

They are among Butler's strongest allies. They are the highest political bureau of the nation's unions—the 30-man Administrative Board of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE).

For the first time since labor leaders whipped together a national political machine in 1943, their top strategy group will work as a floor committee right inside the Democratic nominating convention.

Few of the COPE high command know specifically why they were alerted Tuesday afternoon for the trip to the mass political summit.

Their conjecture is that they will be working the floor and button-holing state delegations for their good friend, Jack Kennedy.

This will mean abandoning labor's public neutrality in the last days of the nomination fight.

WORD IS that's exactly what they'll do on July 6. Some time that evening they're expected to break precedent and declare for Sen. John Kennedy against the field.

Actually this will merely formalize what already has developed behind the hustings.

COPE's strategists in a series of chain sessions all over the country have been meeting with and working for "Jack."

They have been outspokenly against Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson.

Except for a handful led by James Carey, they've just not done anything of value in recent weeks for Sen. Stuart Symington.

But most labor chiefs had not expected abandonment of official neutrality until after the Republican convention. Thus they were surprised when late Tuesday afternoon they were telephoned from Washington by the operational heads of their political department and by some of the special assistants to AFL-CIO President George Meany.

These were hurried calls. No time was being wasted on written communications. Some of the labor men were telephoned by COPE director, Jim McDevitt; others by his aide, Al Barkin; still more found themselves talking to R. J. "Tommy" Thomas, predecessor of Walter Reuther.

The import and impact of the messages were the same. It is urgent that you be in Los Angeles on July 6, the callers said. There'll be a special meeting to discuss the position of the AFL-CIO on candidates and in the campaign.

MEMBERS of labor's political high command were asked to report at noon to Suite 920, 108 West Sixth St., the Los Angeles Regional headquarters.

At that time they'll be joined by COPE's Operating Committee which will have met there at 10 a.m.

The operating group is made up of the COPE staff and a few national labor chiefs. The full Administrative Committee consists of the active members of the AFL-CIO Executive Council and leaders of a group of important unions with records of long political activity.

But there was more to the rushed calls. The Administrative Committee leaders were asked to stay for the duration. They were then told of the floor assignment.

There is little that really startles these veteran union chiefs since they expect each day to arrive with built-in surprises. And this did excite them.

They knew that their leader, George Meany, was in Europe. They knew that no session such as this, which will rock political circles, would be called without consulting their chief.

He is, in addition, chairman of the political division. Therefore, this must have been of sufficient political importance to make trans-Atlantic contact with him.

Obviously he approved the plenary session which will be held two days before he presents labor's platform to the Democratic leaders.

And so the delegates from the "51st State of the Union" prepared to go west.

The Near Nudists

By Truman Twill

The first impression of summer motorists is that The Bomb has fallen and refugees are high-tailing it to safety with what they had on when the holocaust occurred, a few hours after midnight.

On second sight, it turns out that the refugees planned to look this way. They don't give a whoop. They have gone past caring about the amenities of civilization. They are tourists in their own, their native land.

Nothing is uglier than the back of a fat female's legs, so forget the skirt and make a lastingly bad impression.

No off-color behavior could spoil a meal half as readily as the haired-over and misshapen body of a middle-aged greasball, so why shouldn't Daddy leave his shirt and jacket at home and barge into eating places looking as if he had opened the wrong door in his way back from the bathroom at 6 a.m.?

The dimpled arms and legs of kiddies are cute and wrinkly, which in itself is justification for making a spectacle of millions of car-borne children who now get the idea early that when they grow up and go traveling they, too, will survive the ordeal with a minimum of good taste.

They will add their jots and tittles to the nudist movement now rolling on all wheels to turn the super-roads of the republic into nightmares of disarray — a living frieze of waddling women in shorts, overstuff men in gym shirts and kiddies in nothing at all.

The thing has gone beyond the bounds of decency; it is too late to save the nation's self-respect. But for the sake of those who don't want to join the near-nudists in their orgy of dishabille, there should be two kinds of roadside accommodations.

One should be for exposure art.

ists in their open-toed sandals, abbreviated clothes and over-exposed children. The other should be for Americans who never thought much of Hotentots and Australian bush-men.

They, too, are entitled to what they construe as comfort, which in no case has anything to do with tool-road strip-teasing.

They want to stop for roadside refreshments in an atmosphere of civilization. They do not want to fight for soft drinks and milkshakes against hordes of head-hunters.

They prefer to keep their shirts on at high speed. As to legs, it is their conviction that legs like children should be kept under cover unless there is some special reason to show them off — and then only if they are worth showing.

Nothing is going to be done about this. Strip-teasing is a popular obsession. It is a mark of liberation to take off everything the law allows and then to trespass a little further as a mark of independence.

The thing comes to its ugly climax on the new toll roads when the weather turns warm and that old cry which once rang through the rafters of the burley houses is heard again in the land: "Take it off!"

The strip-teasers have gone the limit.

America couldn't look any worse than it does if The Bomb really had crunched down on civilization two hours after midnight and the refugees were on the run.

The near-nudists are in ascendency. The finicky minority doesn't have a prayer, other to murmur, "Saints above me, keep me from making a holy show of myself if I am half that ugly. The least I can do is have a decent regard for the sensitivities of my fellow men whose stomachs may not be as strong as mine."

rated workers in the East Liverpool area received $35.311 in unemployment compensation during May.

Odd Facts

Automobiles have spread the population of the United States far more evenly than it could ever have grown with a transportation system that was dependent on waterways and railways. In the early days, towns grew up along rivers and rail lines — now they can spring up anywhere. There are now close to 700,000 miles of state highways in the U. S., and a total of 3.43 million miles of roads, of all types.

Hawaii's two main sources of agricultural income are sugar and pineapples, these bringing in more than $260 million a year. Lesser sources such as coffee, macadamia nuts, papayas, flowers, passion fruit, and guava products make up an additional $50 million a year. Hawaiians also produce an astonishing 10 tons of sugar per acre.

'One-Way Exchange'

By David Lawrence

Mr. K. Interested In U.S. Elections

Nikita Khrushchev has come up with what he thinks might be the solution to all our problems. He made a speech the other day in Bucharest to the Romanian Communist Party Congress which was reported by Tass, the Soviet press service.

In a nutshell, as the headline in one New York newspaper put it, "Khrushchev Bids U.S. Vote Wisely."

The exact quotation from the Soviet Premier's speech is of paramount interest to the American people — and perhaps even to the Soviet people. He says:

"The present leaders of the United States are evidently not able correctly to build the relations between states with differing social systems."

Mr. Khrushchev is quoted by the Soviet press agency also as conceding that it is for the people of the United States to decide who will be their next President. He, however, added:

"But our state, our people, of course are interested in the election of such a President and the formation of such a government as would remedy the mistakes made by the present government of the United States."

Now, a good argument can be made in support of Mr. Khrushchev's approach.

He wants to influence the American elections and to tell the American people what kind of President they shall choose, even though he professes not to be trying to decide the issue for them.

IF, HOWEVER, Mr. Khrushchev can tell the American people the kind of President he wants, should there be any objection to a bit of advice being transmitted to the people of the Soviet Union as to how they should choose their rulers?

Much can be said in favor of such a principle of reciprocity, especially in these days of "cultural exchanges" between nations "with differing social systems."

After all, as Mr. Khrushchev himself has said, "Peaceful co-existence" depends upon interchanges of this kind.

But what would happen if the President of the United States made a speech addressed to the Soviet people and really told them that they ought to choose a president in a free election?

He could add that, of course, the United States has no intention of interfering in the purely internal affairs of the Soviet Union and that, after all, the whole question is quite impersonal. It concerns only the method of choosing their ruler.

The President could say that "our state, our people, are interested in the election of a chairman of the Moscow government and the formation of the kind of government that would remedy the mistakes made by the present government of the Soviet Union."

Would such a speech by the President of the United States ever be printed in Soviet Russia? It is doubtful.

Would such an address ever be heard over the radio throughout the Soviet bloc, or would the American radio stations trying to broadcast it be jammed so that listeners in Russia wouldn't get it?

Experience indicates that Mr. Khrushchev believes in a one-way street.

He thinks he can influence the American electorate but he would resent any attempt to influence the choice by the people of the Soviet Union of their ruler.

IT MAY BE that Mr. Khrushchev thinks the President of the United States is some kind of dictator who can make policy, irrespective of what the people or the Congress say.

While it may be possible in Russia to ignore the wishes of the people and for one man to break up a summit conference, for example, and frustrate the whole process of negotiation with other governments, such a thing isn't practicable under the American system, wherein the people in a free election may express their approval or disapproval of current policies.

Mr. Khrushchev's interest in the American election is constant. He has referred to it several times in recent weeks.

He has announced that he would not negotiate with the present administration in Washington.

What the Soviet Premier may not yet realize is that neither a Democratic nor a Republican President may ever venture to go to the summit again if Mr. Khrushchev is to be there.

Certainly American public opinion today would not approve of it. Mr. Khrushchev is misled by the fact that he runs a one-man government. That's why he finds it difficult to understand democratic processes.

All this, of course, could be clarified for him if there were free elections in the Soviet Union.

There might even be a plan to interchange campaign orators — that is, let the Soviet orators come over here and argue their case, while American speakers went to the Soviet Union to do likewise.

All this could come under the heading of "peaceful coexistence."

High On Goodwill Visits

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON President Eisenhower, still cool toward summit conferences, is high on goodwill visits by heads of state and looks on his foreign journeys as a success.

In his report to the nation Monday night he was enthusiastic about the value of his recent Far Eastern trip which was marred by the Tokyo riots that forced cancellation of his visit to Japan.

He glossed over the fact that non-Communists supported the Tokyo demonstrations against the American-Japanese defense treaty and he directly blamed the Communists for inspiring the riots.

As recently as last summer— which was before he agreed to meet Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the summit in Paris on May 16 of this year—Eisenhower took a dim view of summit conferences.

At that time he made it known he did not like the modern development of diplomacy—summit meetings—and considered them a step backward for the heads of state to spend their time on work that belonged to foreign ministers, the specialists.

Monday night he drew a big distinction between summit meetings by heads of state and goodwill trips by heads of state to foreign countries.

"I believe that heads of state and government can, occasionally, and preferably on an informal basis, profitably meet for conversations on broad problems and principles. They can, of course, also convene to give solemn approval to agreements previously prepared by normal diplomatic methods," Eisenhower said.

But heads of government meetings are not effective mechanisms for developing detailed provisions of international compacts, and have never been so considered by this government.

"On the other hand, the goodwill aspects of a visit by a head of government can frequently bring about favorable results far transcending those of normal diplomatic conferences."

Still fresh in his mind as he talked was the fact that Khrushchev not only wrecked the May summit meeting but also called off Eisenhower's trip to Russia.

It was possible to read into what the President said the belief that the success of his foreign trips before the summit meeting so disturbed the Communists that this was their real reason for calling off his visit to Russia.

After blaming the Communists for the Tokyo disorders, Eisenhower said: "Respecting Japan, in spite of the outrageous conduct of a violent and disorderly minority, I have been assured that the people there were, in overwhelming majority, anxious to welcome me as a representative of a nation with which they wished to cooperate and to have friendly relations."

But on June 13—three days before the Japanese government cancelled Eisenhower's trip and while the riots were increasing in intensity—The Associated Press reported from Tokyo:

"It is not correct to give the easy, pat explanation that the Communists created the present crisis, Japan's gravest since the end of World War II. But they have certainly played a major role. The political chaos is tailored precisely to their desires."

This story, pointing out the feeling among many Japanese against the defense treaty which was supposed to go into effect June 19, the day of Eisenhower's scheduled arrival, said:

"The Communist effort could not have been effective, of course, if it hadn't had widespread Japanese antiwar, anti-Kishi (Premier Nobusuke Kishi), anti-nuclear bomb and even anti-foreigner sentiment to exploit."

The President said final approval of the treaty by the Japanese government was a "signal defeat" for international communism.

But there is still one question pending: Will the anti-treaty feeling become so widespread that the treaty, for all practical purposes, will be rendered meaningless?

Patrick Henry said: "Liberty ought to be the direct end of your government. Liberty, the greatest of all earthly blessings — give us that precious jewel, and you may take everything else."

Why Candidates Go Mad

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that presidential aspirants get tired of hearing:
"What'd he ever do for anybody?"
"There are 300 kids in that baby beauty contest, and if you're smart you'll kiss every one of them."
"I think his eyes are too close together."
"I think his eyes are too far apart."
"Hold it, senator. Just one more picture."

"If you could promise us a new veterans hospital, I'm sure we could swing the district for you."
"I wouldn't vote for him—he's too young."
"I wouldn't vote for him—he's too old."

"They're raffling off a new car after your speech, senator, so if I were you I'd hold it to 10 minutes."

"So what if they did boo you? It shows they were listening."

"Now when they ask you questions from the floor, remember—pick only those with their left hands up. They'll be our boys."

"Never mind the atom bomb and American preparedness. How do you stand on vivisection?"

"Smile when they hand you that pizza pie, Senator. We're in an Italian district."

"Grin real big when you eat that blintz, senator. This is a Jewish neighborhood."

"Drop out that paragraph about our fine Anglo-American relations, senator. This is an Irish ward."

"What's he really in favor of beside free sunshine, motherhood and bigger highways?"

"No, he's not a cowboy, son. He got that way from straddling issues."

"One more tip, senator. When you break ground for that new high school, try not to hold the shovel like it was a platter of hors d'oeuvres."

"Don't look too surprised when you reel in the line and find a fish on it. We've got it fixed."

"It's all right to pose leaning against that fence while you talk to the farmers. But whatever you do, don't let them photograph you sitting on the fence."

"Rumple your shirt and coat, senator. We're going to the labor rally now."

"I can sense a great ground swell at the mention of your name, senator, but I can't tell yet whether it's pro or con."

"I'll give $20,000 to your campaign, senator, if you'll appoint my brother-in-law to a post abroad. He hasn't worked in 30 years."

"Here, put on this Stetson and string tie—we're back in the cattle country again."

"If the best man wins, senator, what are your future plans?"

Circus Will Present 2 Shows At Calcutta Fire Lot Saturday

The Beers-Barnes Circus, motorized road show, will pitch tents in Calcutta Saturday as a benefit for the Calcutta volunteer fire department.

Performances will be given at 2 and 8 p. m. in the show's first appearance in this district.

Now in its 30th year, the circus has a "big top" seating 1,500 and features the traditional performing elephants, trained seals, ponies, trained dogs, Liberty horses, aerialists, wirewalkers, girls and clowns.

The circus is coming here following a series of engagements for suburban Pittsburgh Kiwanis Clubs.

The sale of tickets is handled entirely by the sponsors and firemen are now holding an advance sale of general admission tickets and will receive up to 50 per cent of the prices on sales made by them before Circus Day, according to Norman Neal, president of the department. The circus will be at the firemen's grounds. It winters in Southern Florida.

Twenty attended a meeting of the firemen Monday night at the station. It was reported a large attendance is anticipated at the circus. Various parking spots are being readied.

Firemen will direct the parking and the County Constables Association will be in charge of traffic.

The fire truck with posters advertising the circus will be on display in Calcutta proper Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

A joint meeting will be held with the auxiliary July 6 at 6:30 p. m. A ground breaking will be held for a permanent pavilion to be erected on the carnival grounds. The pavilion is being sponsored by the auxiliary and will be used as a kitchen and restaurant during carnivals.

Firemen will erect the structure.

Area Playground Await Pet Shows

A pet show, the first in a series of summer events at area playgrounds operated under the direction of the East Liverpool Recreation Council, will be held Wednesday night at 7, according to Merrill Hall, playground director.

Hall said the shows will be held at 13 area lots. Fourteen playgrounds are open but the one at East Junior High School in East End is primarily for older boys and will not be participating in the special events.

Prizes will be given for the largest pet, smallest pet, best groomed, best trained, best cat, best dog, most unusual pet and any other classification that fits the entries.

The supervisors will direct the programs. Judges will be selected from parents attending.

Hall listed other events to be held during the summer. They include a wiener roast, July 6; doll show, July 13; hike, July 20; style show, July 27; talent and hobby show, Aug. 3; picnic at Thompson Park, Aug. 10; races and handicraft, Aug. 17.

The closing date for the summer is Aug. 19.

The tallest memorial ever erected in honor of a man is the Washington Monument, in Washington, D. C. Completed in 1884, it is 550 feet high.

Wellsville Girl, 17, Is Reported Missing

Wellsville police said today they are continuing a search for a 17-year-old Wellsville girl who has been missing from her home since Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickey, 1729 Clark Ave., reported to police Sunday night that Miss Mary Ellen Dickey had not returned.

She was reportedly wearing a white blouse, white sweater, black slacks and low shoes. The girl is 5-foot-6, weighs 104 and has long, brown hair.

Wellsville Boat Club members conducted a search along the Ohio River shore Monday night at the request of the family. Three or four boats participated.

Serves On Carrier

SALINEVILLE — Fireman Gerald L. Sevek, son of Anthony F. Sevek, 117 E. Main St., is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier Shangri-la, which is conducting training at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The ship recently joined the Atlantic Fleet after a 14,000-mile journey around South America from her former home port at San Diego. The flat-top will remain in Cuban waters until the end of July, when it will return to its new home port at Mayport, Fla.

Levy Planned For Township

St. Clair Township trustees Monday night tentatively agreed to submit a proposed 1-mill levy for police protection at the Nov. 8 general election.

The amount of the levy was agreed upon following discussion with representatives of the Calcutta Area Improvement Association and the Glenmoor Development Association.

Some $4,000 annually would be realized from such a levy, with provision of $75 a month for 3 police constables and possible hiring of a fourth officer.

At present, Police Constables John Jackson, Harry Skelton and Clarence Blosser receive no official township pay, but collect some costs and are given funds by property owners.

The three-year proposal is to be prepared in legal form by Prosecutor William Brokaw then resubmitted to the trustees for certification to the Board of Elections.

Representing the Calcutta group were William Black and Dr. Arthur Cloran. Acting for the Glenmoor group were Martin Christen, Wilmer Bryson and Tom Worcester.

Complaints concerning the quality and spread of the recent road oiling were referred to the contractor, Robert Snyder.

Trustees authorized removal of some trees along the Cannons Mills Rd. where a grader had shoved the trees, breaking a fence and allowing a burro of Richard Mattern to get loose.

2 Here Appointed With State Group

Two local appointments were announced at the 35th annual session of the Grand Council of Ohio of the International Order of Job's Daughters held Friday and Saturday at Columbus.

John E. Hall was named grand senior custodian of the grand guardian council and Miss Alice Jane Neiser, grand Bethel chaplain.

Participating in activities were Miss Joan Gilmore, who assisted in the Bible ceremony; Miss Barbara Sneddon, who escorted Hall during the installation, and Miss Neiser, who sang "You'll Never Walk Alone" during the service.

The delegation from Bethel 61 left Thursday and returned Sunday.

Alfred E. Smith, former governor of New York, liked to visit firehouses as a boy and help polish the engines.

Armed Police Use Tear Gas To Quell Riot

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo, (AP)—Heavily armed police exploded tear gas grenades in the heart of Leopoldville's European city today to drive back a crowd of about 500 Negro political demonstrators.

The police sought to prevent a clash between the group of 500 and another crowd of 2,000 chanting Africans holding a protest march through the capital's main streets.

No injuries were reported.

On the eve of independence ceremonies Thursday, the city is in a political ferment. Two large groups who failed to get representatives into the new government are parading through the streets, protesting their exclusion from power.

A force of about 50 police diverted the larger group into a side street to avoid a clash between the two factions. The crowd reluctantly shifted.

Seeks New Trial

CINCINNATI (AP)—Leo Cafferata, 60, former chief of Cincinnati's off-street parking program, has asked Common Pleas Court for a new trial on charges he took $31,250 commission on a city purchase while he was still working for the city. Judge Charles Bell probably will rule on the motion Thursday, when he plans to sentence Cafferata.

The annual reports of the school nurse, attendance officer and transportation system were received by the Board of Education Monday night.

Miss Edna Jones, school nurse, said 1,724 complete physical exams were made during the year for pupils of the first, fourth, seventh and ninth grades. A total of 296 received partial exams.

First aid treatment cases totaled 1,207. She said 4,202 heads were checked for pediculosis and 43 cases were discovered. She made 972 visits to the schools and held 1,514 conferences with parents.

A total of 896 home calls were made. The number of disease cases were 75, allergy rashes; 16, scarlet fever; 277 colds, flu, etc.; 97, chicken pox; 136, measles; 272, mumps; 91, impetigo; 49, poison ivy; 7, ring worm, and 64, pink eye.

Tuberculosis patch tests were given students in Grades 1, 7, 9, and 12. Twenty-seven were positive and had chest X-rays made.

All pupils had an opportunity to receive three polio immunizations in September, October, and May, she reported. Pupils' immunizations and records were checked and rechecked. Three immunization clinics were held at City Hall for vaccinations of whooping cough, tetanus, diphtheria and polio.

First aid supplies were ordered for all the schools. These are paid for by the Red Cross. Shoes were purchased for needy children and clothing was collected and distributed, the report showed.

Christmas aid was given needy families from clubs and church groups. Doctors' examinations were scheduled in Grades 1, 4, 7, and 9 and rechecks made on physical defects.

She also reported she assisted with physical exams at St. Aloysius Parochial School. Vision and hearing tests were made in first and second semester driving classes in high school.

Thirty-two senior girls were members of the Future Nurses Club. Twenty-one students were taught in home nursing class. Cited for aid in her work were the City Health Department, Kiwanis Club, Key Club, Lions Club, Quota Club, Business & Professional Women's Club, Colonial Club, Golden Star Dairy, Bloor's Pharmacy, church groups, Siff's Shoes, and Parent-Teacher Associations.

Fifty-one police conferences were conducted and 21 legal notices delivered to parents and 14 others sent to them. One evening conference was held with a parent.

Forty-two court cases were reported. Of these, 32 were informal and 10 formal.

The transportation report showed $45,518.65 paid by the board to the Hall & Snyder Bus Co.

The total spent on transportation was $57,472.60. Cash remittances on passes totaled $11,953.95. The board is reimbursed by the state for a percentage of the amount spent.

The report was broken down into schools, distances from schools and various types of passes.

To Release Detainees

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—About 1,200 of the 1,600 political detainees still held under state of emergency regulations will be released within the next two weeks, Justice Minister Francois Erasmus announced today.

Rockefeller Asks Hike In Defense Fund

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller called again today for a three-billion-dollar increase in the defense budget to face up to the 1960s as a "decade of danger" to national survival.

The New York Republican said in a statement delivered to his colleagues of the 52nd annual governors conference that "we cannot be confident" that military disaster will not overtake the United States in the 10 years that lie ahead.

In a renewal of his criticisms of President Eisenhower's defense program, Rockefeller said he agrees with Vice President Richard M. Nixon's assertion that this country is militarily stronger than ever before.

But, he added: "We are—in a relative and realistic sense—more exposed to fatal danger than ever before in our history."

In a slashing indictment of the Eisenhower administration's defense policies, Rockefeller paralleled many of the questions he raised in a June 8 demand that Nixon state his position on major issues before the July nominating convention in Chicago.

Reflecting the findings of a Rockefeller Brothers Fund report on defense matters, the New York governor said that the relative military power of the United States, as compared with that of the Soviet Union, "has steadily and drastically declined over the past 15 years." This reached back into the previous Democratic administration.

"Our power to retaliate after a Soviet attack is increasingly and seriously vulnerable," Rockefeller said. "We have survived the 1950s without any military disaster. We cannot be confident of the same for the 1960s."

Rockefeller called for what he said are the "plain imperatives" of a quickening of missile production. He said there must be dispersal and an airborne alert of SAC planes. He proposed an increase in Army, Marine and air-lift strength.

"These actions, will cost us money, as well as fresh efforts of intelligence and imagination," he said. He added that studies had indicated the increased defense costs would be three billion dollars.

Ike

(D-Ark) of the Foreign Relations Committee said that "the President's decision not to make any more trips is a sound one."

But Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), while welcoming more emphasis on established diplomatic channels, commented that "we must admire the President's willingness to make another trip if he felt it would do any good."

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, called Eisenhower's speech "an adequate answer" to critics of the latest trip, and Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) said the speech was "very good — it expresses the American viewpoint."

Eisenhower accused the Soviet and Red Chinese leaders of being engaged in "a deliberate attempt to split the free world, causing friction between allies and friends."

"We must not fall into this trap," he asserted. "All of us must remain firm and steadfast in our united dedication to freedom, and to peace with justice."

School Heads Salaries Hiked

salary $8,700, and $400 the second year.

Dixon was given a $500 increase to make his salary $8,000, and $400 the second year. Means received a $500 increase, to raise him to $7,000, and $300 the second year.

Miss McGregor received $500 the first year, to make her pay $6,900, and $300 the second year while Pelini received $500 the first year, making him $6,600, and $300 the second year.

These increases will cost $3,100 the first year and $2,100 the second.

All elementary principals were given an additional $100 a year base allowance to make them $400 more each year above the teachers' schedule. The principals also will receive a $25 annual additional allowance per classroom unit above 4 units. This was a $5 increase. The estimated cost of these increases is $845.

The salary schedule for secretaries, with the present salary and the new salary listed in that order, follows:

$212.50 to $225 per month during first 6 months of service; $222 to $238 per month during the second 6 months; $240 to $257 the second year; $250.50 to $267 during the third year; $260.50 to $277 during the fourth year; $270.50 to $287 during the fifth year; $280.50 to $297 the sixth year, and $285.50 to $302 the seventh year and thereafter.

These increases will cost an estimated $1,536.

The clerk of the board was raised from $475.00 to $5,000. The superintendent of buildings and grounds was hiked from $4,100 to $4,350; bus drivers went from $3,536 to $3,736, and the school nurse was increased from $3,775 to $3,950. The increases will cost $1,275 additional per year.

Custodians and firemen were given a flat $200 a year increase all down the line.

The new monthly salary schedule, for those who collect their pay in a 10½-month period, is as follows:

$294.07, 4-room building; $322.29, 8-room building; $334.54, 10 rooms; $351.29, 12 rooms; $345.54, assistant custodian at Memorial Auditorium; $368.29, high school firemen.

The monthly rate for those paid on a 12-month basis follows:

$287.01, 4 rooms; $311.11, 8 rooms; $321.83, 10 rooms; $336.49, 12 rooms; $351.43, assistant at Memorial Auditorium; $337.25, Patterson Field; $367.57, Central Building; $348.58, head custodian at high school, Memorial Auditorium, East Junior High and Westgate; $351.15, high school firemen; $419.16, Westgate firemen.

These increases will cost some $5,600 a year.

The cafeteria manager was raised from $2,025 to $2,175 a year while the assistant manager went from $1,845 to $1,995. Cafeteria workers were granted a 50-cent a day increase to make their pay $9. The increases will total $1,020 a year and will come from the cafeteria fund.

A recapitulation was made of the distribution of all increased funds. Aside from the salary hikes, other increases will include $11,515, retirement costs; $18,000, repairs; $8,000, text books; $15,000, equipment; $5,000, supplies; $5,000, library books; $15,000, for psychologist and speech therapists, and $1,540, estimated cost of increase for substitutes.

The board also increased substitute teachers' pay from $14 to $15 daily and granted an additional $100 allowance for the head basketball coach, making a total of $800 a year on the job.

Betts pointed out that he had made a survey of 12 schools with which East Liverpool has athletic relationships. The basketball coach is being paid below the average while the head football coach and assistants in both sports are about on par.

No action was taken on an increase for substitute custodians. Betts said he will present a recommendation later.

Glenmoor Woman Hurt In Area Road Mishap

A Glenmoor woman received a possible hip injury in a collision between 2 autos on Route 30 at Cannons Mills Monday.

Betty Ann Shelton, 22, of Staunton Ave., Glenmoor, was driving north, making a turn to the west, when a car operated by Glenn Thorne, 31, of Salem attempted to pass.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the woman reported she had a pain in the hip, but did not require treatment.

About 25,000 Steelworkers Reported Idle

NEW YORK (AP)—About 25,000 steelworkers have been laid off and thousands more are on short work weeks, an Associated Press survey discloses.

A slump in steel orders was blamed. Further declines are expected. David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, called for "swift and positive action to reverse the trend before we slide into a disastrous depression."

The American Iron and Steel Institute estimated production this week would amount to 1,560,000 tons, 54.8 per cent of capacity. This compares with last week's output of 1,739,000 tons, 61 per cent of capacity.

The estimate is the lowest since the week of Nov. 9, 1959, when 1,291,000 tons were produced as mills started up after a long strike.

It is the first time since the 1958 summer recession that production in a nonstrike week has fallen below 60 per cent.

Although exact figures were not available, best information indicated 18,000 of 141,500 workers in the Pittsburgh area are idle.

In that area, U.S. Steel Corp., the industry's largest producer, has closed its Edgar Thomson works with no indication when it will reopen. Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. is shutting down its installations in the Pittsburgh area over the Fourth of July weekend. It expects to resume immediately after the holiday.

Another extended Fourth of July layoff is facing workers at East Chicago, Ind., plant of Inland Steel Co. Seventeen thousand of its 20,000 workers will be idle from four days starting Friday.

U. S. Steel Ohio's works at Youngstown plans to shut down July 3 and resume operations July 9, idling 5,000 workers.

On the other hand, the Sparrows Point, Md., works of Bethlehem Steel Corp., the nation's largest plant, said it now has about 30,400 employees, within 500 of the figure a year ago when steel users were building their inventories to cushion against a strike.

Most industry analysts cite a slower than anticipated reduction of inventories as the prime reason behind the slump in steel orders. They expect a sharp upturn in August when the automobile industry begins ordering steel for 1961 models.

Traffic

A 22-year-old motorist was fined a total of $75 and costs Monday on three charges as the aftermath of a mishap Sunday at 2:25 p. m. in which his car struck a parked auto owned by Charles Pierson, 632 Avondale St.

Judge Chertoff imposed a fine of $25 and costs on each charge: Leaving the scene of an accident, operating an auto without a driver's license and knowingly making a false statement in an application for an operator's permit. The judge suspended $15 of the second fine and gave Joy until Friday to pay the third. If he produces a valid license by that time, part of the fine may be suspended, the judge said.

The judge granted a continuance until Friday at 2 p. m. in the case of John F. Starr, 861 Lisbon St., who was cited June 18 on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. His hearing had been delayed previously because Starr was hospitalized with injuries suffered in a two-car crash. The continuance was requested by his counsel, Atty. John B. McDonald.

East End League Plans Outing Of New Playground

The East End Civic League will hold a formal opening ceremony for its community playground on Belek St. Thursday at 1:30 p. m.

Mayor Bert Goodballet will speak and there will be a flag raising. Other speakers will be the Rev. R. L. Latimore of the Second Baptist Church, the Rev. E. H. Harris of Youngstown, former pastor, and other guest. Refreshments will be served throughout the afternoon.

The league has installed an assortment of playground equipment at the lot, which will be open daily from 12:30 to 4 p. m. with adult supervision.

It is not associated with the Recreation Council because it is self-supporting, a spokesman said, but it is open to all children of the East End community.

City Planners May Suspend

ford Smith, Robert Laughlin, John Kelly and Donald Hancock.

Also attending the session in the mayor's office were Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, City Engineer George Bloomgren and Owen D. Kountz, Council clerk.

The Planning Commission, generally speaking, has only the power to recommend or suggest programs such as adoption of a building code or preparation of a master plan. Then Council has the option of accepting the recommendation and providing the funds to make it a reality.

Some of the proposals the Planning Commission has investigated run into heavy initial expense for the city, although federal and state funds are available in most cases to pay at least part of the cost.

For instance, investigation of the cost of hiring a firm of professionals to prepare a master plan disclosed that the price could vary from about $20,000 to nearly $40,000.

Adoption of codes to govern building, electrical wiring, plumbing and heating systems — which the commission twice has recommended to Council—also would be a costly item, investigation disclosed.

If Council adopted the codes as city ordinances, their publication as legal notices would be required before they could become effective. A "rough estimate" furnished by the Review at the commission's request and disclosed in a letter read last night showed that publication of the four big code books would cost about $18,000. Ohio law requires that such legal notices must be published twice before the ordinance can take effect, according to a letter from George A. Shaw, advertising manager. Two of the code books are as thick as an average novel; the others are smaller.

The solicitor suggested an alternative under which he said the publication requirement might be met for about $5,000. If the city were to adopt a new municipal code and publish it in book form, including the building codes, it could advertise a synopsis of the new material contained in the volume, thus meeting legal requirements, he said.

He said the city should publish a new code book soon, as the present volume is 10 years old and there have been many additions and changes since it was prepared.

The commission asked Council to consider the solicitor's proposal, which hinges on the question of available funds. Earlier, Council had indicated it could not promise to consider adoption of the codes until it learned what new city expenses would be entailed.

Most of the session was devoted to a discussion of the need for planning and zoning as a way of keeping East Liverpool in step with progress and creating a better "climate" for business and industrial growth.

"Just as we have a water department, a fire department and a police department, East Liverpool needs a planning department to guide its future growth," Eckert asserted. Cooper added that the principal benefits resulting from planning will show themselves 20 or even 50 years from now "but we have to get started today."

Eckert pointed out a city is required to have an active planning commission if it's to be eligible for federal aid for planning and urban renewal.

"But there's no use having meetings if nothing is accomplished eventually," he said. "We could dispense with meetings except when there is a particular problem or question that needs action," he said. "This goes back through the last two or three administrations; there have been suggestions and proposals, but nothing has been accomplished."

The Planning Commission began serious investigation of preparation of a master plan in 1958, when the city had new revenue from a city income tax that promised to help cover the cost. However, the commission decided to do nothing definite pending a vote on the tax ordinance, which was repealed in the fall of 1958. Another income tax proposal was put on the ballot in 1959, but it also was turned down.

Following the first defeat of the tax in 1958, the commission had decided not to commit the city to pay the cost of a master plan pending the outcome of the 1959 proposal. Although it has been discussed at intervals since, there has been no real move to hire a professional planner.

Two members of the commission were absent last night. Judge Louis Tobin is recovering from injuries in a fall at his home and E. L. Wheatley is attending the annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery, which he heads.

1950. It became inactive after workers began getting pensions under the union.

Under state law if such an association is inactive for 10 years then it becomes escheat. Last October, the court ruled that a suit in equity be started to determine persons eligible and that funds be distributed to those legally entitled. Atty. Coughlin was appointed liquidator and his bond set at $50,000.

Assets were reported in October at $94,000 and Coughlin was able to sell them for about $99,000, an increase for the members.

After settling the association account, Atty. Coughlin, a well-known figure in politics in Beaver County in recent years, plans to retire. He works only part-time now.

Cost of sending the checks by certified mail amounted to about $930.

Check Suspect's Hearing Awaited

A hearing is expected to be held today or Wednesday for Earl Johnson, 38, of Hartford, Ind., charged with forgery, after passing three known bad checks in Newell and Chester recently.

Arrested by Hancock County sheriff deputies last week after attempting to cash a check at Waterford Park, he will be given a hearing before Squire John D. Heron of New Cumberland.

It was believed that Johnson would be transferred to Charles Town in Jefferson County to face charges there, but Hancock County has decided to prosecute, deputies said.

Deputies said a definite date has not been set for a hearing for Emerson L. Vashinder, 43, of Washington St., Newell, who is charged with driving while intoxicated and being involved in a hit-and-run accident early June 18. The case may be continued until next month.

Insurance Suit Nearing Jury

LISBON — Testimony is expected to be completed late today in Common Pleas Court in the suit of Lois J. Bingham, 19, of Leetonia R. D. against James E. Hartman, 19, of New Galilee, Pa., formerly of Negley, and the Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co. of Columbus.

Miss Bingham won a $20,000 personal injury verdict in Common Pleas Court May 14, 1959, as a result of an accident Dec. 27, 1954 on the East Palestine-Unity Rd. Nationwide was the insurer of the Hartman car at that time.

The insurance firm claims that Hartman was driving the car without his parents' permission and that it is not liable as a result.

The jury was sworn in Monday morning by Judge Joel H. Sharp and was sent home after the plaintiff rested. The defendants called their witnesses this morning.

The jury includes Letha King, Lillian V. Aubill, Donald Way, Leota Gerber, H. J. Hixenbaugh, Hazel Wilkinson, Arden Crumbaker, James Weaver and Hazel Painchaud of Salem; Lee Walton of Wellsville, Emerson Snyder of Columbiana and Ruth Kerr of Damascus. Martha Shears of Salem is the alternate.

Domestic Economy Perpetually Frozen

Khrushchev's Harassed
By Problem Of Inflation

Returning to the Soviet Union after an absence of seven years, William L. Ryan has found that Nikita Khrushchev is harassed by a multiplicity of domestic problems. This is the second of five articles by the AP's Russian-speaking news analyst.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

An enterprising Muscovite, with an eye to a quick ruble, looks at your suit with undisguised admiration. He runs his fingers over the material with appropriate exclamations of approval.

"Want to sell it?" he asks, apparently willing to buy your clothing right off your back.

Do you have an American ball-point pen? A West European wrist-watch? What do you have? The young hustler is in a buying mood and will pay well. There's a big market for quality in the Soviet Union. He can resell at a spanking profit.

Soviet authorities have tried to discourage this sort of thing, but it persists and grows as tourists flood into Moscow.

This is called dealing "na lyevy"—on the left. It reflects the Soviet hunger for better consumer goods. And it underscores some serious domestic Soviet problems.

The Communists have been unable to escape the laws of supply and demand. The Soviet regime frequently has had to resort to spy scares and noisy belligerence to divert the attention of its public.

Soviet communism's problem is that the nation's domestic economy is perpetually frozen. Something similar might be the case for Americans if wartime price controls and priorities had become permanent fixtures in peacetime—an economy of shortages.

Nikita Khrushchev's regime is harassed by a constantly recurring problem of inflation. Money accumulates in the pockets of better-paid Soviet citizens, without goods in the stores to match it.

The experience is not new in the U.S.S.R. It happened in Stalin's time, too. He dealt with it, occasionally, with sudden relaxations, and sometimes by suddenly changing the value of money.

Premier Khrushchev, too, is about to revalue the ruble, although he has given forewarning. The process begins in January, when rubles in circulation will be exchanged, 1 new ruble for 10 old.

Basically, what has happened has been a wage inflation. It resulted from the programs of Stalin's immediate successor, Premier Georgi Malenkov. These programs were first denounced and then adopted by Khrushchev. They involve higher prices for collective farm products, raises in minimum wages, pensions, the end of enforced loans to the state.

The average Soviet wage still hovers in the neighborhood of 700 rubles monthly. At the tourist rate, that would be $70, but it is worth a bit less in actual purchasing power. Prices for clothing, household goods and things affected by seasonal shortages remain extremely high. A two-pound cabbage, for example, as of June 12 cost 15 rubles—the tourist rate equivalent of $1.50—and cabbage is a Russian staple.

The pressure on the Kremlin is not revolutionary, but it is steady and nagging. Counter pressure by some Communist party elements on Khrushchev also is noticeable, and once again he likely will have to tell the public to deter its dreams.

Khrushchev's promises of better living generated much optimism among the average Russians. But skeptics who have been through it all before expect strong measures once again, with dangerous international tensions as the excuse.

On the whole, an American in Moscow feels that the hunger of the Soviet consumer public are a token of shame for Soviet communism: that for all the U.S.S.R.'s vaunted might and scientific spectacles, for all its abundance of natural riches, it remains in many respects a backward nation, far behind the standards of much weaker neighbors to the west.

Ohio River Barge
Traffic Increases

CINCINNATI (AP) — The U.S. Engineers say barge traffic on the Ohio River is getting steadily bigger, and shipments are going longer distances.

The Engineers reported Monday that 1959 barge shipping was at an all-time high in ton miles—the number of tons carried over one mile of river.

The figure for last year, 17,685,302,449 ton-miles, compared to the previous high in 1957 of 17,209,734,410.

Total tonnage last year was 80,801,017, ten per cent better than the year before, but not a record.

The Engineers noted new highs in 1959 in oil and gasoline, 17,333,459 tons; stone, sand and gravel, 10,434,473; sulphur, 460,340; chemicals, 2,913,538, and miscellaneous, 4,919,721.

Iron and steel cargoes amounted to 3,844,373 tons in 1959 and coal and coke was 40,895,113 tons.

Blasts Rip Tanks

CLEVELAND (AP)—A series of explosions ripped seven acetylene and oxygen tanks at the Oliver Corp. plant in suburban Euclid Monday. Officials estimated damage at $35,000 and said cause was unknown. Fire Chief George R. Lanza said flames shot 75 feet in the air for 10 minutes after the explosions.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Anita Ruffing of Bellevue, Ohio, is the new president-elect of the Department of Classroom Teachers, largest single unit within the National Education Association, with about 85 per cent of the total NEA membership.

Mrs. Ruffing, an eighth grade English teacher, automatically becomes president next year. Richard D. Batchelder of Newton, Mass., High School is the current president. He will be succeeded July 5 by Mrs. Buena Stolberg of Webster Groves, Mo., who has been president-elect for the last year.

In 17 years he'll be

The electric utilities are helping to attract his future employer to Ohio!

When he does the most important hunting of his life, will "game" be plentiful?

Will there be jobs for all?

We think there will be many choices open to him. Ohio is growing. It contains a combination of advantages attractive to industry. Its business climate is stimulating.

Take the case of the electric companies. Ohio's business climate historically has made possible a good combination of reasonable electric prices to users—lower than in 31 states*—and reasonable returns to the investors. Under this climate, Ohio electric companies have been able to spur the growth of Ohio industry—and offer quality service that has helped bring new industry from outside.

Yes, we feel confident the future in Ohio holds jobs for all!

Upgrade Driver Education, NEA Official Urges

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An official of the National Education Assn. proposed today that driver education be upgraded to equal importance with all other high school courses.

It's the sort of proposal that critics of public education will leap upon with glee. Norman Key, executive secretary of the NEA's Commission on Public Education, outlined his recommendations in a paper prepared for a meeting held in connection with the NEA's 98th annual convention.

Key said there should be special standards for college faculty members who prepare driver education teachers, and for the college courses that go into that preparation.

"Such standards," he said, "should be comparable to those for the preparation of teachers in any other field."

Critics of U.S. education who say our schools are too soft cite driver education as an educational frill which has no place in the classroom. They acknowledge its importance in saving lives and reducing insurance premiums but say it should be handled after school hours on weekends or during summer vacations, and preferably by a civic organization.

Indians Stage Sit-Down Strike In Fund Protest

FORT DUCHESNE, Utah (AP) — A small Indian party camped in the tribal office of the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs today—a day after taking over in a bloodless coup.

The determined band of about 30 braves and squaws apparently hoped the sit-down strike would dramatize their complaints over the way tribal funds are being spent.

The office's regular personnel, tipped in advance, decamped when the Indians arrived.

"They just walked in and said they were taking over," said agency Supt. Martin M. Zollar. "We let them walk in. Our boys walked out. This happens quite often."

"They have no authority and can't do anything," Zollar explained. "We won't do anything. We don't want to start any unnecessary rumpus about it."

"They claim they're not getting full benefits" from tribal funds, Zollar said. "They object to the way the tribal council spends some of the money—travel programs to develop resources, recreation and all that."

Chicken left over? Dice it and add it to a mixture of green peas and carrots. Dress with mayonnaise. Diced celery makes a crisp addition to this good combination.

Beatniks Launch Complaint Against 'Gripemobile' Project

NEW YORK (AP) — Beatniks and just plain neighborhood folks bent a perspiring Mayor Robert F. Wagner's ear with lamentations loud and long as he launched his "Gripemobile" project in the heart of Greenwich Village.

Beatnik poets demanded to know how come the fire department was closing down some of their coffee houses as firetraps.

A "Save Greenwich Village" spokesman's gripe was that "Bronx-type apartment buildings" are ruining the charm and character of the village.

So it went for an hour Monday as the mayor sweated it out listening to the complaints of the people of an area long famous for talkers and thinkers on subjects one and all—including how to run City Hall.

When the mayor was able to edge in a word, he gave promises of looking into it immediately.

A hot street corner at Greenwich and Sixth Avenues was the setting as the mayor took City Hall to the sidewalks of New York. A crowd of about 200 gathered.

The "Gripemobile" is a 36-foot trailer and is part of the "Mayor's Information Center." Wagner said the trailer will be taken to various spots in the city to bring the city government "closer to the people."

Man Kills Wife, Takes Own Life

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 6-year-old's complaint that "Mommy hasn't fixed us anything to eat yet" led to the discovery Monday of the bodies of Marcus Sloane, 31, and his wife, Shelby, 25, in the locked bedroom of their Strongsville home.

Sloane apparently shot his wife to death some time after midnight Sunday, then took his own life, police said.

He left a note saying Mrs. Sloane "made the fatal mistake of laughing off my threat to commit suicide so I'm going to take her with me."

The Sloanes and their four small children lived upstairs in a two-family house. The couple argued frequently, and Sloane had threatened suicide before, a relative said.

Monday the downstairs occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Hargis Tuttle, who had been out of town, returned about 1:30 p. m. and 6-year-old Marty told them he had not been fed. He said he looked under the door and "saw his mommy on the floor not moving and his daddy on the bed." Tuttle said. "So I called the landlady, and she called police."

Networks Prepare To Cover Conventions

It would seem that Sen. Thurston B. Morton had the wrong pig by the tail when he underscored the serious purpose of the political conventions before a conclave of Republican delegates and urged them to remember, "This is a political convention, not a great Hollywood extravaganza!" The Republican National Chairman had the right idea, but the wrong audience!

Marie Torre

His appeal should have been made to the television networks, which have been exhibiting ballyhoo practices worthy of a Cecil B. DeMille film with respect to the televising of the political clamor.

AN ESTIMATED 92 million Americans will view the upcoming Democratic and Republican conventions on TV, according to omniscient nose counters, and the TV people are relying on advance publicity, "gimmicks" and an uncommonly high quote of razzle-dazzle for heaping slices of the TV audience pie.

Behold the "VIP Train," for example! Brainchild of the NBC news department, "The VIP Train" will provide convention participants with transportation "literally fit for a queen." This happens to be the whole truth. "The VIP Train" actually can make the claim, "Queen Elizabeth sat here."

"Politicians, newsmen and convention personnel will be riding in a queen's carriage at the Democratic convention in Los Angeles," went the proud NBC announcement.

"THE CARRIAGE, actually an electric towing tractor and three cars, was built originally to transport Queen Elizabeth and her royal party during their tour of Chicago last June.

"NBC News, which obtained the train from the Clark Equipment Co. of Battle Creek, Mich., has changed its name from 'The Queen's Cars to 'The VIP Train' and will use it to transport political figures to floor cameras or studios in the Sports Arena for interviews."

THEN THERE'S "The VIP Room," out of ABC! This is described as a rest haven for politicians at the convention, but it's no ordinary lounge... with comfortable, overstuffed chairs, footstools and free-flowing libation only!

This room comes equipped with negatively-ionized air (this stimulates, we're told, "a sense of exhilaration, and contributes to clearer thinking and more positive attitude and behavior pattern"), an oxygen bar, foot vibrators and soft music to soothe the savage beast."

In the interests of maximum publicity, ABC invited the press to the unveiling of "The VIP Room" and a scout in attendance reported: "Upon our arrival, former Gov. Averell Harriman was taking his place in the vibrating seat of honor... When he was settled in a reclining position, with his feet resting comfortably on the foot vibrator, the governor was handed the finishing touch, an oxygen mask.

"A CURVACEOUS young model (invited by ABC) hovered over the governor helping him with the oxygen, and after they posed for photographers somebody asked Harriman how he found the treatment."

"Recommend it highly," he responded. "I feel as fresh as a berry."

"As for the model, someone remarked, 'It wouldn't be show business without a half-dressed girl.' No lie!"

A pre-convention bid for publicity is being made also with a television coaching school for candidates, and a whole slew of novel TV gadgets.

Among them will be Video-Scene, transistorized walkie-talkie, portable vidicon camera, 100-inch lens and a secret weapon called "the machine gun mike," which can be aimed at figures 100 feet away and, unknown to them, puts their conversation on the air.

Of the three networks, CBS has been the least voluble on convention plans and plots, indicating we'd say, that the network fears tipping its antenna to the enemy" (NBC and ABC), or that it will aschew gadgets and gimmicks altogether.

A CBS spokesman insists the latter is true.

"Oh, they're gimmicking this thing up," said the CBS man about the other networks. "CBS has no gimmicks. This is serious business."

THE SECOND of four Jackie Gleason spectacles on CBS in the 1960-61 season will revolve around the life and times of robber baron Jim Fisk. Having read all about the subject, Gleason notes that he merely will have to change clothes to look like Fisk, a contemporary of Boss Tweed. They were about the same height, weight and dimensions—and, in Fisk's words, they both knew something "about the world, the flesh and the devil."

Danny Kaye's TV contract calls for a one-hour show once a year for the next three years...

For a TV comedian, Steve Allen turns up on the most unlikely magazine covers—the Saturday Review a few months ago; now the Circuit Rider, employee magazine of the Methodist Publishing House. The article has to do with what Allen thinks about religion in life.

OVERTURNS CONVICTION

CINCINNATI (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, has overturned the robbery conviction, involving three banks, of Marmion Pollard, 31, former Detroit policeman. The appeals court Monday ruled the prosecution in Detroit's U. S. District Court failed to prove Pollard was sane when the robberies were committed in 1958. The robberies occurred two years after Pollard's first wife and small daughter had been murdered by a neighbor.

Area's Crops Of Vegetables Go To Market

Garden fresh peas, tender green snap beans, vitamin rich broccoli, sour and semi-sweet cherries, lettuce and celery are appearing on the market from local sources, according to Edgar Watkins, market information specialist for the Agriculture Extension Service.

This week will about finish the strawberry crop, which is already on the way, he said.

The supply of locally produced fruit and vegetables will increase steadily during the coming weeks and offer consumers a much wider selection of tasty garden food, Watkins said.

Food shoppers also will want to be on the lookout for seasonal specials on canned foods. Many of these specials are run when packers are able to estimate closely what the new crop will amount to and they clear out any holdovers from the previous season. Common specials at this time are peas, corn, pineapple, peaches, pork and beans and tomato products.

When a change in the menu is most important fresh fruit and vegetables are a welcome choice. Cherries for sauce and pies now are in season. Fresh peas have a flavor that the canned product does not preserve. Watermelons, cantaloupes and corn can be tasty treats.

If, however, holding down the food bill becomes the most important consideration, compare the cost per serving of fresh, canned frozen or dried foods, Watkins said. Many times considerable savings can be made switching from canned to fresh when it is in season, sometimes just the reverse is true. For example fresh peas are about 25 cents a pound today which will figure about 12.5 cents a serving. Canned peas can be purchased for 19 cents or cheaper for a cost of 4.8 cents a serving. Frozen peas at 18 cents for a 10-ounce package figures about 6 cents per serving. These cost figures can and do change rapidly.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean some of my decorative candles, which have become quite soiled?

A. Wipe them with a soft cloth dipped in kerosene and then wrung out. Do this quickly with a smooth up-and-down motion. Then, with the same motion, reharden the wax with a cloth dipped in cold water. The original luster can be restored just by rubbing them briskly a few times with a crumpled sheet of tissue paper.

Q. How can I improvise some glazier's points for use to frame a window or picture?

A. Clip some ends from some ordinary paper clips, snipping these on the bias to produce pointed ends. Then press these into the frames as you do with the regular type of points.

Q. How can I prevent nuts from rusting tight on bolts?

A. Dip the threaded end of the bolt into shellac before turning the nut onto it. The nut can then be removed later without any trouble.

CINCINNATI (AP)—One Republican and 19 Democrats in Hamilton County can't run again for office for five years, according to the county election board, because they didn't file election expense accounts in time. The board reported Monday all 20 were candidates in the recent primary for posts in the county GOP and Democratic Party central committees.

Castalia Police Chief Appeals His Discharge

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Police Chief John Strouse Jr. of Castalia has appealed his discharge to Erie County Common Pleas Court. Strouse was found guilty of nonfeasance in office by the Village Council last month after Mayor William Howard brought charges. Strouse was accused of failing to report for duty upon orders from the mayor.

The chief had been ill since last September. The illness was diagnosed by his doctor as a nervous condition resulting from friction between Strouse and the mayor.

Jury Rules Against Railroad in Suit

CINCINNATI (AP)—A jury in U. S. District Court has decided against Charles M. Mulligan, Baltimore & Ohio railroad who sued the railroad for $100,000 damages. The verdict was reached Monday after a four-day trial.

Mulligan, 67, a conductor with the B. & O. since 1942, contended that on Nov. 4, 1958, a brake on the car he was operating failed, causing the car to crash into standing cars. Mulligan said he was thrown to the ground and was injured permanently. The railroad denied it was at fault, and contended Mulligan negligently operated a safe hand brake.

Gambler Gets 2-20 Years In Dover Bribery

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP) — George Markos, Dover gambling operator, was sentenced Monday to 2-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary for bribing Dover's mayor. Judge Frank Cope sentenced Markos to 1-10 years on each of two counts, the sentences to run consecutively.

On four other counts on which he was convicted, Markos, 64, received five years probation, providing he "divests himself of all personal property in his possession from which gambling operations have been carried on," the judge declared.

A defense motion for a new trial was overruled. It was based on a claim that one of the jurors, Earl M. Taylor, was offered a bribe to vote for acquittal.

But the judge said the matter should be investigated and ordered the county prosecutor, James Patrick, to call the grand jury into special session for that purpose.

The defense said a report of the alleged bribe attempt was prejudicial to the defendant and added that Markos himself "had no knowledge of such a bribery attempt."

Markos was ordered to pay $4,000 to the State of Ohio and Tuscarawas County for the investigation into gambling and court costs.

Markos was freed on $25,000 bond and his attorneys said they would file an appeal with the Fifth District Court of Appeals.

Markos was convicted June 16 of bribing Mayor Clifford C. Froelich, who was not called to testify during the trial. He himself is under indictment on a charge of accepting bribes.

Earl Bake, president, announced today the Wellsville Board of Education will call for a Civil Service examination to fill the post of city school nurse.

Mrs. Jennie Cathoun, present nurse, is retiring effective Thursday after 25 years service.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl, 16. Whoever started that big lie that teen-age years are the happiest years in a person's life must have been out of his head. I want to direct this letter to teen-age boys because they are the main reason for the misery of teen-age girls.

At every party—whether it's a school hop, at somebody's house or a church get-together—you will always see a group of girls standing together in a circle. They are laughing and talking, and at a glance you think they are having a wonderful time.

The truth is they are having a lousy time and they wish they had stayed home. These girls stick together and try to look gay because no boy will ask them to dance.

All the boys run after the two or three pretty and popular girls. The plainer ones like me never get asked for a single dance. It's humiliating and heartbreaking.

This letter is a plea to teen-age boys to be more thoughtful and considerate. So what if a girl isn't a great dancer or a living beauty? She may have a lot on the ball if you give her a chance to show it. One thing is certain, she'll appreciate you a lot more than the girl who is run ragged by every fellow in the place.

The next time you go to a dance, seek out that circle of girls who stick together because misery loves company. Get another fellow or two to join you, and ask the wallflowers to dance, or accompany you to the refreshment table. You'll be doing a marvelous thing for two people—the girl and yourself.—BITTER 16.

Dear Sweet 16: What is there for me to say? You've said it all.

Dear Ann: I was engaged for 11 months to a girl I thought I was madly in love with. When I first started to date her several buddies told me she was a little tramp and they recited chapter and verse. I almost slugged a few of my closest friends.

Recently I learned she took a weekend trip with a married man. I asked for my ring back. (It's a diamond and worth $650.) She said, "It's mine. I earned it." What can I do?—SAPHEAD.

Dear Sap: A diamond is one of the hardest substances known to man—to get back, that is. She is NOT entitled to the ring. See a lawyer if necessary.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

Mystery Dieter Turns Detective

Teens and subteens . . . what is easier than starting a diet? Stopping a diet! Staying power is what it takes to win through to happy, healthy, desirable weight.

Insight into why you fail to stay with a slimming program is the important key. Before you put your diet failures down to a lack of will power, examine when you are tempted to "go whole hog" and analyze your mood prior to such recklessness.

Our Mystery Dieter ferreted out the reason she became discouraged in past diet attempts. Ruth Writes:

"The only change this week has been in measurements. Hips are now 39½, arm 11½, abdomen 31, calf 14. Total loss to date 14½ pounds.

"I FEEL THAT I have learned a very important lesson in the past week. I now know why I always gained two pounds during the special time of the month, or rather, during the preceding week.

It is the week before that I always am at a 'low' or feel a little blue. During this despondency I have a drive to eat and eat and eat . . . and the will power sinks lower and lower and lower!

"I never really took the time to even analyze this before, but now that I at least partially understand, I'll be better able to guard against over-eating during this time. My weight stayed at 144 pounds this past week. Thanks again for your understanding and for your morale-boosting columns."

What's the best way to lose the blues? Through activity. Action serves as a safety valve. Prior to your months period, tension builds up.

The ideal way to cope with tension is through physical exercise. Get out and walk . . . play a game of tennis, or swing into calisthenics. You have to be a self-starter at this time . . . but start and you'll feel like exercising.

It is helpful to go light on salt prior to this special period. A wise doctor promised one patient that if she would count calories for ten days before the menstrual period and use salt sparingly at that time, she could control her weight beautifully.

Sure enough, it worked out that way, for it was only during this particular time that she felt driven to abandon all calorie caution and eat and eat. When she learned that calorie counting for that 10 day period would bring extra dividends, she stayed with her slimming quota happily.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF ALL ADVERTISING STOPPED?

Stores would begin cancelling orders. Very quickly, manufacturers would close down plants and lay off millions of employees. Volume production would be a thing of the past...and so, prices would rise fast.

Within a week most radio and television stations would close up shop for lack of revenues. The ability of many newspapers and magazines to perform their full, vital functions would be seriously impaired! And the cost per copy would zoom for those that tried to keep running only on circulation revenue.

This alternative to advertising can hardly be the goal of the critics of advertising. Without advertising our national economy, our national life, would be bleak indeed. In many ways, advertising is the power plant of our society.

MORE CUSTOMERS FOR MORE PRODUCTS

American creative genius and wonderful ability for organization have resulted in a tremendous flow of goods of all kinds. This creates a crucial need for masses of people anxious, willing and able to buy and consume these goods. Only a society with a constantly rising standard of living can provide the customers. These customers have to be sought, taught and often persuaded to move higher in the scale of living. This is the job of advertising.

Machines produce products. Advertising produces customers. As machines produce more goods, advertising is needed to supply more customers.

Suppose all our warehouses and stores become filled with merchandise. What would happen if this merchandise remained on the shelves? There would be a glut. Everything would slow down. Sure, people would still have to buy the necessities of living—food, shelter, wearables, medicine. But that is hardly enough to keep a very small part of our factories, railroads, trucks, planes, stores in operation. Millions and millions of people would have to be laid off.

Advertising not only gives people news about the new products, but provides the urge for people to own and enjoy these products. The wider and deeper the penetration of our products into the life of America, the greater the need for more production. This means more jobs. More jobs mean more people able to enjoy what we make. More people buying means more, still more production. And so on and so on. The result is that more Americans can enjoy more of the fruits of their labor than people in any country anywhere in the world can enjoy theirs.

ADVERTISING LOWERS PRICES

Does advertising raise the cost of goods? On the contrary. Through newspapers, television, magazines, radio and billboards, an advertiser can talk to a prospect for a tiny fraction of a cent. Advertising is the quickest and cheapest way of reaching large numbers of people. It enables the advertiser to reach his market (customers) inexpensively and thus increase his total production, thereby reducing the cost of making and selling each unit.

THE CULTURAL EFFECTS OF ADVERTISING

It's because of advertising that our mass media of communication can afford to command the finest talent from all over the world and give to the American people information, stimulation and education which, in other countries, are available to very few people.

Advertising makes its cultural contribution in another way. Advertising is in large measure responsible for better living, less drudgery, more leisure for more people. This creates opportunities for intellectual and spiritual activities equaled in few, if any, other countries. While millions and millions of dollars are being spent by Americans for cars, boats, sports equipment and the paraphernalia of leisure, there is a growing hunger for improvement of the mind and for aesthetic enjoyment.

WHAT ARE THE "NEEDS" OF PEOPLE?

Critics of advertising sometimes indict it for creating dissatisfaction in people's minds with what they have, and persuading and cajoling them into buying what they neither need nor want. But what are "needs?" The "needs" of people in undeveloped countries are not the same as our needs. Our needs of 50 years ago are not the same as they are today. We don't actually "need" electric razors, electric refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, television sets, shampoos, beauty treatments, packaged goods, or even automobiles. But would critics of advertising stop encouraging people to want a better life? Would they have the millions of people who create, produce, and market the so-called "non-essentials" thrown out of jobs? Do they want us to go back to the more primitive living of other countries?

ADVERTISING—PUBLIC SERVANT

Frequently, the advertising industry is called on to do direct public-service jobs—for the Government as well as for private public-service organizations. This it does through the Advertising Council, a non-profit organization supported by American business and advertising media. Here's what President Eisenhower said to the Advertising Council in Washington several months ago:

"For eighteen years you have been stimulating the nation's conscience in areas where the voluntary work of great numbers of people has been necessary in order to promote worthwhile causes. I know you have been in such fields as conservation, organized charities, safety, prevention of accidents, and more recently in giving your efforts to the job of pointing out to our people the need for self-discipline if we are to avoid debasement of our currency and prevent inflation.

"And I think no other body has done more in this regard in trying to inform America across the board of these things than has The Advertising Council."

Orioles Slip To Second After Losing 5-2 In Home Nest

Senators Drop Birds Behind Yanks In Race

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no place like home for the Baltimore Orioles. Good thing, too. If there was, they wouldn't be contenders in the American League pennant race.

After regaining first place with their second 10-4 road trip of the season, the Birds returned home and slipped to second Monday night, losing to Washington 5-2 in 10 innings when the Senators broke a 2-2 tie with three unearned runs.

The loss ended Baltimore's winning streak at four and put the Orioles three percentage points behind New York again. It also put their home record at 18-15, compared to a 23-13 mark on the road. This was their third straight loss at home, and they've lost seven of their last 10 games in Memorial Stadium.

No other games were scheduled in the majors, although there were three exhibition games, including the 19th annual Hall of Fame game at Cooperstown, N. Y., where the Chicago Cubs beat Cleveland 5-0. The Los Angeles Dodgers defeated New York 4-3 in a charity game that drew 53,492 at Yankee Stadium. And the International League All Stars rapped the Milwaukee Braves 7-2 at Toronto.

The sixth-place Senators, now 5-5 for the season against Baltimore, twice blew one-run leads behind left-hander Jack Kralick (3-0), who went all the way in his first major league start. Hoyt Wilhelm (5-5) was the loser in relief, although giving up only a pair of bunts. The knuckleballing right-hander had won three straight, all on the road, and had a string of 17 1-3 scoreless innings going into the 10th.

Bob Allison led off the 10th with a walk and stole third after Lennie Green beat out a bunt. Both scored on second baseman Marv Breeding's wild throw to the plate on Julio Becquer's grounder. Becquer then came around as Billy Gardner bunted safely and Hal Naragon hit into a doubleplay.

Smith got Hillsdale on a real "steal." He paid Mrs. Helen Kellogg of Evansville, Ind., $25,000 for Hillsdale after the colt had won seven of his first 13 starts.

Golden Star Nips Rival To Tie American Loop

Golden Star grabbed the victory it wanted to tie up the American Division of the Little League with a 4-1 win over Homer Laughlin Monday.

The victory by the Dairymen left them tied with Laughlins with identical 5-2 records.

In two other contests, Travelers handed Millirons a 16-5 setback and Medics turned in a 4-3 win over McBurneys.

Bob Burkhardt was the winning pitcher for Golden Star. He allowed Homer Laughlin only two hits and struck out 10 and didn't issue a walk. Len Walker, the loser, fanned 11 batters.

Myer Fans 14 Batters In Littens 8-2 Victory

With Dave Myer fanning 14 batters and allowing only four hits, Littens, the first half champions, won his first start in the second half of play with an 8-4 victory over Woodbine in the Pony League Monday at Dopler Field.

Littens stormed off to an eight-run lead before Woodbine scored its only runs in the fifth inning.

The winners backed Myer with a nine-hit attack, paced by Dave Morse's double and single.

Myer didn't walk a batter and was nicked for only four singles.

Thomas' Record 7-2 Leap May Hit Technical Snag

LOS ANGELES (AP)—That record-breaking 7-foot, 2-inch high jump by John Thomas may run into a technical snag.

After Thomas made the jump Friday at the National AAU Championships in Bakersfield, an official grabbed the crossbar before a final measurement of the height was made.

The rules say the height must be measured before and after a record jump, and this could mean the bar should not be touched before the second measurement.

Pincus Sober, chairman of the AAU Track and Field Committee, said Monday he doesn't believe "that incident should invalidate Thomas' performance."

"But," he said, "as meet referee I must honestly divulge everything that happened when submitting his jump for consideration as a world record."

Yuri Stepanov of Russia holds the recognized record of 7-1, but Thomas has a pending record of 7-1 1/4.

Fullmer Eyes 2nd Straight Over Basilio

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Fight fans, never at a loss for an argument, debated several issues today on the eve of the middle-weight title fight between Champion Gene Fullmer and challenger Carmen Basilio.

The two collide for 15 rounds or less in a bout which will be televised nationally (ABC) at 9 p.m. EST.

Fullmer, pride of nearby West Jordan, and Basilio, from Chitengo, N. Y., usually display all the charm and finesse of a pair of stubborn billygoats in the ring. This is the National Boxing Assn. version of the 160-pound division title, recognized everywhere except New York and Massachusetts.

Basilio, who won and lost the crown to Sugar Ray Robinson, poses the main problem. He's 32, and how rusty is the old warrior?

He hasn't fought since Fullmer, now 28, stopped him in 14 bruising rounds Aug. 28, 1959, in San Francisco.

There is speculation about Fullmer's probable boxing style. Gene did employ what for him was an artistic left, threw in a little footwork and proceeded to give the willing but deceived Basilio a beating in their last bout.

In his two title defenses, Gene reverted to the mauling, brawling attack. It netted him a drab decision over Spider Webb and a controversial draw with Joey Giardello.

Walcott Calls Johansson 'An Amateur'

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jersey Joe Walcott, oldest man ever to win the heavyweight boxing championship of the world, calls former Champion Ingemar Johansson "an amateur."

"He (Johansson) doesn't belong in the ring," Walcott said Monday night.

Floyd Patterson last week became the first man to regain the title by knocking out Johansson in the fifth round of their scheduled 15-rounder. Johansson won the title from Patterson last year on a seven-knockdown third round technical knockout.

"He was lucky in catching Patterson the last time," Walcott said. "Floyd was over-trained. People say there's going to be a rematch. It'll never happen. It'll be bad for the fight game. They oughta get the heavyweight division moving."

Walcott, 46, is director of youth activities in Camden, N. J. He won the heavyweight crown at the age of 37 in 1951.

"Look at the way the guy (Johansson) trains," he said, "and you know the guy can't be much. Women around," not bearing down in training. It was like a country club rather than a training camp. You don't win fights like that, now do you?"

Thomson Given His Release By Boston Red Sox

BOSTON (AP) — Veteran Bobby Thomson, the Flying Scotsman of the old New York Giants, may be at the end of a long baseball career highlighted by a home run New Yorkers never will forget.

Thomson was given his unconditional release by the Boston Red Sox Monday. The Sox let the 36-year-old outfielder go to make room for Ted Wills, a left-handed pitcher recalled from Minneapolis.

In 40 games with Boston, Thomson was hitting .266 with five home runs and 20 runs batted in. The 6-foot-3 Thomson, born in Glasgow, Scotland, slammed his most famous homer to win the pennant for the Giants in 1951.

Two men were on base and New York was two runs down in the ninth — two outs away from losing a rubber playoff game to Brooklyn.

The Sox released Thomson the same day the Cincinnati Reds sought waivers on veteran first baseman Whitey Lockman. The Reds said they plan to release him. A double by Lockman preceded Thomson's famed homer.

Waits On Call From Tribe

Piersall Says He Doesn't Need Rest From Baseball

BOSTON (AP) — "I'm not going to go anywhere. I'm not going to do anything. I'm just going to stay here and wait for a call from the Indians."

That is the way Jim Piersall describes his plans. The fiery Cleveland outfielder is under orders from the team physician to take a rest.

"I'm in good shape and don't need the rest," he insisted Monday. "I'm ready to play when they want me."

Dr. Don Kelly, the Indians' team physician, recommended that Piersall take a rest for an indefinite period after Jim was thumbed out of the second game of a doubleheader with the Yankees in Cleveland Sunday.

Piersall suffered a nervous breakdown midway through the 1952 season and spent part of the year in a suburban Boston hospital. For a time, he was in the violent room.

The fleet outfielder has played spectacularly this season.

Since early May he has had a series of bitter, angry arguments with umpires—with the usual results. He has had verbal skirmishes with opposing players and has a running feud with the official scorers.

Indians Need Clean Sweep Over Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Cleveland Indians can slip ahead of Baltimore in their three-game series here, but they need to win every game to do it.

The Orioles, who hold a 5-3 season series edge over the Indians, are 2 1/2 games ahead of the Indians in the American League standings. On the basis of percentage points, Baltimore is in second place, three points behind the New York Yankees. However, the Yankees trail the Orioles by half a game on the basis of won-loss record.

Gary Bell will start tonight for Cleveland, trying for his seventh victory. Bell, who started the season strong, was relegated to bullpen duty when he lost the winning touch. In his last start June 19 against Boston he pitched five innings, gave up three runs and was charged with the loss.

Steve Barber (5-3) opens the series for Baltimore.

After three games here and three at Washington, the Indians come home for a July 4 doubleheader against Kansas City.

In Monday's Hall of Fame exhibition at Cooperstown, N. Y., the Indians were able to muster only two hits against the Chicago Cubs — none off Dick Drott who pitched the first seven innings. The Cubs won 5-0 in the annual exhibition at Doubleday Field.

The Cubs scored all their runs in the first three innings against Jack Harshman, who is still on the disabled list recovering from a back injury.

In the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs last April, Jacques Plante of the Canadians turned in three shutouts in eight games.

U.S. Comes Up With New Star On Wimbledon Court

By JOHN GALE

WIMBLEDON (AP) — America's eclipse in the Wimbledon men's singles was seen today as only a passing setback for U.S. tennis prestige.

Slim-shouldered Earl Buchholz has served notice that, far from being on the wane, Uncle Sam has once more dredged up a player of world class who can win in any country.

The 19-year-old player from St. Louis, Mo., rocked the 24,000 crowd at this unofficial world championship Monday with his steady destruction of top-ranked amateur Neale Fraser.

He was forced out of the match by a combination of cramp, heat exhaustion and ankle trouble but few would have denied the moral victory to the Yank.

Buchholz has already beaten the Australian left-hander twice this year. When his match with Fraser was broken off, he led 6-4, 3-6, 6-4 and the fourth set had gone to 15-15 with the American always holding his service more easily.

In Davis Cup matches ahead, Buchholz seemed sure to start favorite against Fraser who currently is the best Australia has to offer.

Barry MacKay fell below high expectations in succumbing to the Italian stroke artist Nicola Pietrangeli 16-14, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4. But there's lot of tennis left in MacKay who rightly remarked that "one day you're up — and the next down."

Darlene Hard and Karen Hantze 17, the only Americans left at this stage of the tournament, are looking after Uncle Sam's interests. Miss Hantze had a likely uphill fight against Britain's Christine Truman, who has beaten her twice in the last month. Miss Hard, the No. 2 seed, went against South Africa's eight-seeded Sandra Reynolds.

Grace U.P. Wins Sixth Straight

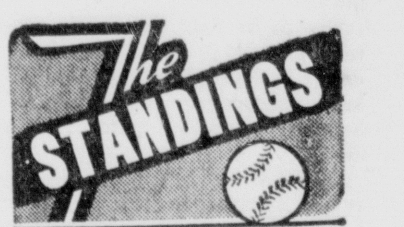

Oakland Free Methodist, First Christian and Grace U. P. picked up victories in the YMCA-Church Softball League Monday.

Grace U. P. notched its sixth straight victory by handing First Free Methodist a 3-1 setback.

Stillwagon and Johnson with two hits each paced the winners while Glenn Pease collected a pair of safeties for the Methodist nine.

Roy Mort gave up seven hits and emerged as the winner for Oakland Free Methodist in an 8-6 win over Chester Christian. Gerald Kelly and Bob Swogger had two hits each and Clyde Jarvis homered for the winners.

The Pease brothers paced First Christian to an 11-5 win over St. John's Lutheran as Jack Pease walloped two home runs and Ron Pease had four hits, including a homer.

Senate Takes Up Bill On Unrestricted Draft

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate takes up today a disputed bill that would throw most of professional baseball's player roster open to an unrestricted draft after every World Series.

The measure also would declare the business side of professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey subject to regulation under the antitrust laws.

Baseball is now exempt under Supreme Court rulings, but the court has ruled that some of the other sports are subject to the laws.

The main fight, however, centers around the baseball player draft, designed primarily to curb any monopolistic hoarding of baseball talent by major league clubs.

The bill among other things would allow each major league baseball club a maximum of 40 "untouchable" players. All players in excess of that total would be made subject to law to unrestricted draft once a year by other clubs.

The fight comes against the background of the Continental League's efforts to win recognition—and access to ball players—as a new major league, with status equal to that of the American and National leagues. Backers contend it also would result in more evenly balanced major and minor league team strength, and thus better sport.

On Cincinnati's first California trip this season, southpaw relief ace Bill Henry saved three games for starting pitchers.

Out With Comfort
COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Muscogee County jailers will have to find new ways of occupying their time while on duty. Chief jailer A. F. Hearn says he had a television set and a bed removed from the jailers' quarters for efficiency reasons and "alertness to duty."

Aussie Sculler Sees End To U.S. Supremacy
LONDON (AP) — Australia's champion sculler, 24-year-old Stewart MacKenzie, predicted today America's eight-oar rowing supremacy will be ended this year in the Olympic Games.

"The United States seems complacent over her eight, with great crews at California, Harvard, Cornell and Pennsylvania, but I'm afraid she is in for a real shock at Rome," he said.

"I've been rowing all over Europe — even behind the Iron Curtain — for the last four years and you know who I think will win the eight-oar race at Rome? Germany. Those Germans are terrific."

Dupas Records 82nd Win In Beating Jordan
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Ralph Dupas of New Orleans, No. 4 contender for the welterweight title, marked up his 82nd win Monday night with an easy 10-round bout of Irish Eddie Jordan.

Dupas, who weighed 145 1/2, had things under control all the way and had his Brooklyn, N. Y., opponent on the canvas for a nine count in the fifth round. Jordan weighed 140 1/2.

The referee and one judge awarded Dupas 10 rounds. The other judge saw nine for Dupas and one round even. The AP saw Dupas taking each round.

Teenage Gals Block Path Of Veteran In Ohio Golf

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The only former champion in this year's Ohio Women's Amateur Golf Tournament is faced with fighting off a field of players most of whom weren't born or were in swaddling clothes when she won her first laurels.

Mrs. Charles Beardsley of Dayton, who qualified easily enough for the 16-player match play contest with an 82 Monday over Miami Valley's 6,438-yard women's par 76 course, won the title in 1938, 1940 and 1942, when she was Janet Shock.

Blocking her path to a fourth crown are such teen-agers as Judy Rand, Aurora, last year's USGA girls champion; and newcomers Carrie Holles, only 15, of Alliance, and Charlena Stamm, 16, of Zanesville.

Mrs. Beardsley qualified for the state tournament when she was 15, too, but that day in the 1930s tournament officials suddenly brought forth a rule that no one under 16 was eligible. Now, however, any child may compete as long as her handicap warrants acceptance of her entry.

Medalist, with a 77, was Mrs. John Fitton of Hamilton, a Miami graduate and a former physical education teacher, who didn't take up the game until 1952. She was a tennis player then, but when she ran out of opposition down in Butler County, she turned her attention to golf. Her first sticks were four wood clubs her mother had.

Most of the favorites survived the 18-hole medal play test. But last year's medalist, Mrs. Allen Georgenson of Mansfield, failed to make the grade, soaring to an 85.

It took a score of 84, lowest cut-off point in the tournament's 37-year history, to get into match play today through Friday. Three tied with that figure for the one remaining place, which was won by Mrs. Theodore Flack of Cleveland with a par 5 on the first hole of a sudden death playoff.

Gets His Bear
ADA, Okla. (AP) — Kenneth Grimes sighted a bear on his ranch and with the help of his fast horse roped the animal. It wound up as a gift to the Oklahoma City zoo after spending several days as the sole occupant in a jail cell.

Beaver Board Adopts Budget And Sets Levy

Approval of a $869,000 budget for the Beaver Local School District and certification of a proposed renewal of an 8-mill levy for the November 8 election were authorized by the Board of Education Monday night.

The proposed renewal will be for 10 years, an extension of a current operating levy which has been in effect for 5 years. It provides some $80,000 annually for school operations.

The fund represents an increase of some $55,000 over the 1960 budget, due largely to increased costs of operations and higher salaries for personnel. The 1960 budget was $807,000.

The general fund totals $701,700, a boost of some $49,000 over this year, with about $33,000 of the difference assigned to teacher salary revisions. There are also increases for transportation, maintenance and repairs for buildings and employees' retirement.

The cafeteria allotment of $81,000 is some $7,000 over the $88,000 of this year. Bond retirement will amount to $73,690, compared to $75,185 for the present year.

In other action, the board authorized a $1,088 contract to Clarence Brown of East Liverpool for painting rooms at the Calcutta, Elkton, West Point and Rogers buildings and the corridors at the high school.

Bids will be sought shortly on disposal of a frame building at West Point, which will no longer be utilized for classes.

The board authorized George VanHorne, executive head, to prepare agreements for the use of a frame building at Elkton by the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council and the Oak Grove School by the Mt. Zion Church.

The next meeting will be July 11.

2 Murderers Given Paroles

Five convicted slayers, inmates of London Prison Farm and including 2 from Columbiana County, today were granted paroles by the Pardon and Parole Commission.

Lawrence A. Wheatley, 41, of Columbiana County, was received Jan. 3, 1947, after conviction on a second-degree murder charge in the fatal beating of Lilla Barrett of East Liverpool in 1946. His parole is effective Aug. 26.

Others were James Agazzi, 63, of Cleveland; Louis W. Pope, 41, of Guernsey County, and Clarence Shamblin, 37, of Canton. The commission granted 61 paroles, repared 12 others and continued 28 cases.

Gilmer was also appointed chairman of the committee for the Clay District and Mrs. McKenzie secretary. Alternates will be elected at a future date.

Policeman Gets Bang From Wrong Way Toss

SALINEVILLE — An 18-year-old youth who found he had to get rid of a firecracker, tossed it the wrong way—right beside a police cruiser.

Gary B. Hogue of Maple Heights was fined $10 and costs Monday night by Mayor Kenneth Leishman for discharging a firecracker. Hogue said he and some others were handling the firecracker in front of Hogue's Confectionery Friday night when the fuse accidentally became ignited from a cigarette.

Hogue said he quickly tossed it toward the street. At that moment, Police Chief Cleo Mellott drove by, and the firecracker exploded close to the cruiser.

Hogue pleaded guilty to illegally discharging fireworks.

Senate Group Works On Old Age Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee goes to work today on the House-passed social security bill — one of several measures holding the key to final adjournment of the 86th Congress.

The big controversy in the bill concerns the limited House provision for medical care to the aged, a plan which many Democratic senators want to broaden.

The House bill would cover an estimated million and a half old persons. Proposals will be offered in the Senate to make medical benefits available to all of the 16 million persons over 65.

Most of the plans advanced by Democrats to do this call for writing a medical plan into the social security system to cover 12 of the 16 million, with other means provided for the remaining four million.

The Senate also is expected to send to President Eisenhower during the day one of the must bills of the session, the tax extension and debt ceiling measure.

It would preserve four billion dollars of annual revenue, and put into effect a temporary eight-billion-dollar increase in the permanent national debt ceiling of 285 billion dollars.

It would continue present rates on corporation income taxes and excise levies on such items as liquor, automobiles, auto parts and accessories, telephone and telegraph service, and fares for airline, bus and train travel.

The House passed the compromise measure Monday, during a day which brought these other actions:

1. The Senate, making an exception to laws requiring equal radio-TV time for all candidates, passed a bill to permit broadcasters to volunteer their facilities for Republican and Democratic presidential and vice presidential candidates.

2. The House rejected 101-16 a proposal for government licensing of radio and TV networks as well as stations, but delayed at least until today a passage vote on a bill to outlaw payola and rigging of quiz shows.

3. The Senate sent to the House a bill to provide 100 million dollars in federal loans to help cities modernize their transit systems.

King, Queen Of Thailand Visit Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American-born King of Thailand and his queen arrive today for a five-day state visit designed to remove any impression the United States has "taken for granted" a key Southeast Asian military ally.

With the memory of his own trip to Asia still fresh, President Eisenhower arranged to greet his royal guests personally at National Airport on their arrival from Pittsburgh aboard the President's plane Columbine III.

In his report to the nation on the Far East Monday night, Eisenhower made special reference to the visit from King Bhumibol Adulyadej and Queen Sirikit.

The 32-year-old monarch was born in Cambridge, Mass., while his father, Prince Mahidol, was a student at Harvard Medical School.

There have been recent rumblings in Thailand that the United States does not draw enough distinction between its committed allies and such neutral nations as India, Cambodia and Indonesia.

New Flareup In Tokyo Against Treaty Flops

TOKYO (AP) — A new student demonstration against the U.S.-Japan security treaty and Premier Nobusuke Kishi's conservative party flopped resoundingly today.

A wing of the radical Zenkaku students federation announced 30,000 would demonstrate. Only 200 showed up at the Parliament building.

Mrs. Mildred Lavrusky of Midland was admitted Monday at Rochester General Hospital. Discharged wife Mrs. Bradley Groscock and son of Midland, Tommy Hall of Hookstown and Mrs. Josephine Page of Smiths Ferry.

Mrs. Ruth Gallaway, 801 Dewey Ave., is in City Hospital awaiting surgery.
